Holds County Meeting

Reams Predicts An Upset In Ohio

COLUMBIANA — "I feel confident of the greatest political upset in the country in November," Frazier Reams Jr. of Toledo, Democratic candidate for governor of Ohio, told a political gathering at Heck's Restaurant Tuesday night.

Some 75 were present, including Democratic party leaders and newsmen.

REAMS attacked the administration of Gov. James A. Rhodes in the field of education and for "advertising" for industry.

"We can outwork the Republicans," he said, "but we cannot outspend them." Reams charged that Ohio is lagging behind its sister states, "slipping with each year." He said "the slippage is lubricated by unfulfilled promises."

The state senator said the Ohio motto under the Rhodes regime is "profit is not a dirty word." Reams said if he is elected, his motto will be, "In Ohio, people is not a dirty word."

Reams first ran for public office in 1962 at the age of 32, being elected one of two state senators from Lucas County. In 1963, he was chosen one of two outstanding freshman senators in nonpartisan balloting. He was re-elected in 1964.

BORN AND reared in Toledo, Reams has been active in civic and legal affairs there, having been a member of the boards of directors of the Toledo Council on World Affairs and the Lucas County Safety Council. In addition, he is a former assistant counsel for the Toledo Legal Aid Society.

The gubernatorial candidate has been a partner in the law firm of Reams, Bretherton and Neipp since 1959, an executive vice president of radio station WCWA and a member of the Board of Directors of the Lucas County State Bank.

He holds degrees from Washington and Lee University and the University of Michigan Law School. He is married to the former Susan Rodawig and is the father of three sons and one daughter.

Don Gosney, Democratic committee chairman, presided at the meeting and also reported on the proposed county community college, asking residents to unite behind the program.

Democratic candidates for county offices in the May primary were present and spoke briefly.

Mayor's Program Aired

Long-Standing Proposals Cleared As Officials Meet

Several long - standing proposals for municipal improvements moved closer to reality Tuesday night in an informal conference between members of City Council and the administration.

Six of the seven councilmen met at City Hall with Mayor George E. Willshaw and Safety - Service Director Robert E. Vodrey, primarily to review a 19-point program which the mayor submitted to Council on Jan. 3.

COUNCIL agreed to consider legislation that would:

1. Require property owners to keep their lots clear of weeds. If the owner did not comply, the city would cut the weeds and bill the owner, possibly on the tax duplicate.

2. Require property owners to maintain sidewalks and curbs in good repair and also require them to keep their walks clear of snow.

3. Tighten regulations on street excavations and their refilling and repaving to assure that the pavement would be replaced in its original condition.

4. Create the position of supervisor in the "Meter Maid" force so that some of the minor administrative problems and questions would be removed from Vodrey's office.

All members of Council attended except Floyd Murray, who was working an evening shift at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

"I am very pleased with the progress made in this meeting," the mayor commented. "We made a lot of progress. Everyone joined in the discussion, offering opinions and making suggestions."

He noted that three of the items in his 19-point program already have been cleared: A bill to purchase new parking meters; authority for acquisition of 2,000 feet of guard rails, and an arrangement to buy a new machine for applying street center lines.

Four Others Hurt As Car, Truck Meet

Industry District Accident Increases Beaver Toll To 13

A Beaver Falls teen - ager became Beaver County's 13th traffic victim of the year early this morning in a car - pickup truck collision that injured four others near Industry on Route 68.

Killed was Hans Schmidt, 18, the driver of a car that collided with a pickup truck driven by Willard McCanna, 41, of the Ohioview section of Industry.

Dr. John Colavincinzo, Beaver County coroner, said, "Schmidt was killed instantly of compound fractures of the skull."

Another teen-ager, Norman Fox, 18, of Washington, D.C., is clinging to life at Presbyterian University Hospital, Pittsburgh. He was a passenger in the Schmidt auto and was transferred from Rochester General Hospital for surgery after suffering compound fractures of the skull.

Two other passengers in the car are listed in "fair" condition at Rochester hospital.

They are George T. Budd, 18, of Dallas R. D. 4, Luzerne County, Pa., who suffered a head injury, multiple contusions and lacerations of the chest and a fracture of the right leg, and James Phillips, 18, of Beaver Falls, who suffered multiple lacerations of the forehead and face.

McCanna was also listed as "fair" at Rochester hospital with contusions of the face and multiple fractures of the left leg.

The accident occurred at 12:55 just east of Barclay's Crossing on a straight stretch by McClain's Firebrick.

Schmidt's auto was heading east and McCanna was driving west at the time. Industry Police Chief Roy Hendershot is investigating.

A. D. Campbell Funeral Home of Beaver Falls is handling arrangements for services for Schmidt.

Brakes Fail, Rig Upsets On Chester Hill

A tractor - trailer descending the Route 30 hill Tuesday right inside the Chester city limits overturned after striking a telephone pole in front of Chaney's service station on Carolina Ave.

According to the driver, Harvey Eugene Galbreath, 26, of Beloit, Ohio, the brakes on the 1964 rig apparently failed as he was approaching the 90-degree turn at the foot of the hill.

As he attempted to round the curve, the cargo of steel shifted, causing the rig to overturn. A power outage was caused as the utility pole was struck, but a Monongahela Power Co. crew quickly repaired the damage, Walter Jordan, manager of the Chester branch, said.

Galbreath, who suffered a scalp laceration, was taken to City Hospital by Arner's ambulance and was later released. He is a driver for the Lattavo Brothers trucking concern of Canton, owner of the rig, according to the report submitted by Chester patrolmen Kenny Williams and Joseph Cornell.

Galbreath was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control and is due for a hearing

These Were Death Cars In Mishaps

THE BODY OF HANS SCHMIDT, 18, of Beaver Falls had not yet been removed when the above photo was taken after the fatal crash near Industry in Beaver County. The battered car at the bottom was driven by David Greathouse, who died of injuries in City Hospital as a result of an accident on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Rd.

David Greathouse of 1003 Lisbon St., a retired potter, died at the hospital at 1:30 a. m. of injuries suffered in the two-car crash at the intersection with Kountz Ave. about 5:30 p. m. yesterday.

His wife, Mrs. Bernice Greathouse, 37, received a possible concussion and a laceration of the left ear.

A stepson of the victim — Michael Taylor, 4 — was uninjured, the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reported.

Rodney McDowell, 21, of 1127½ Main St., Wellsville, driver of the other auto, was treated at the hospital for bruises and abrasions of the right knee and released.

Officers said McDowell was headed south toward Wellsville in the outer lane when Greathouse drove from Kountz Ave. into the path of his 1962 convertible.

McDowell's car struck the left side of Greathouse's 1959 sedan, knocking it 85 feet and spinning it around to face south.

The death was Columbiana County's third traffic fatality this year, compared with three at this time in 1965.

Capt. Pete Trainer of the Wellsville police directed traffic while the injured were removed and remained at the scene until the patrol officer arrived to conduct the investigation.

Man Involved In Near Crash Dies Of Attack

SALINEVILLE — A 70-year-old Monroeville man died from an apparent heart attack in a physician's office Tuesday afternoon after his car veered into a ditch on Foundry Hill in an apparent effort to avoid a collision with another auto.

Edgar Allmon, a retired coal firm employe, was pronounced dead at the office of Dr. J. M. Nedelkoff about 5 p. m.

Police Chief Ray Keister said Mr. Allmon's 1959 sedan went into a ditch on Foundry Hill about 3:55 when he pulled from the roadway to avoid hitting an oncoming auto operated by an unidentified man who did not halt.

Witnesses said the other auto —a white Chevrolet coach—was traveling at a high rate of speed and was in the wrong lane.

The police officer said Allmon got out of the car, apparently uninjured, and described the mishap to him. Keister said Allmon reported he had had a heart attack after the death of his wife last year.

When Allmon said he felt a

Communists Beaten Off Near Laotian Border

Red Attack On U.S. Camp Repelled

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — At leat two Communist companies assaulted an isolated camp of U.S. Special Forces men and mountain tribesmen early today near the Laotian border. The attack failed.

The 300 Montagnard troopers and their 12 "green beret" American advisers beat off the attackers in a day-long battle around the triangular mud and log fortress, radio reports from the camp said.

During the barrage the Communists shot down an armed U.S. Army C47 transport sent to help the besieged garrison in the Ashua Valley, 60 miles southwest of Da Nang. Four men were killed in the crash.

Rescue helicopters brought out three wounded crewmen of the C47.

But heavy Communist fire prevented the helicopters from bringing out the dead.

About 200 Communists launched the attack at 2 a. m. At dawn, U.S. forces lost contact with the camp, raising fears it may have been overwhelmed as the Reds descended on it in the heavily wooded hills along the border.

At nightfall, a flare plane flying overhead to provide illumination picked up a weak but clear signal from the defenders saying "Everything is under control." The Viet Cong broke off contact just before sunset, reports from the battleground said.

The reports indicated some of the Americans among the killed or wounded, but there was no firm word on the toll.

U.S. Special Forces men have played a leading role in training the primitive, anti-Communist mountain men for duty at lonely outposts.

The Ashua outpost overlooks a number of trails the Communists use to infiltrate men and supplies into South Viet Nam through Laos. Its air strip is under continual Viet Cong sniper fire. Last year a plane carrying Gen. William C. Westmoreland, commander of U.S. forces in Viet Nam, was hit while he was paying a visit to the camp. He escaped injury.

The two-engine plane went down about 1:10 p.m. in the area about 60 miles northwest of Da Nang, in the northern sector of the country. An Air Force spokesman said three or four men were killed.

Two helicopters evacuated three wounded men but were unable to bring out the dead because of heavy ground fire.

In Saigon, casualty figures for last week announced by the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands showed a sharp decline in Allied combat dead and a marked rise in Communist losses.

will be held in the future to continue with planning for community improvement. Part of last night's session was devoted to deciding the priority on which some of the proposals will be handled, he said.

THE COUNCIL members said they favor the idea of obtaining a garage for city vehicles. Two buildings have been mentioned for possible purchase. The prospect of the city erecting its own building also was discussed.

Councilmen agreed when a new garage building is provided, it will create the positions of city mechanic and helper to assure a continuing program of preventative maintenance. Constant checking and servicing should avert the frequent necessity for major repairs, Willshaw said.

He cited the case of an Illinois city which extended the life of its police cruisers from 70,000 to 200,000 miles by a regular maintenance program.

The councilmen asked Vodrey to ask a representative of the Ohio Inspection Bureau to come to East Liverpool and make a survey on the necessity for replacement of the old fire alarm system. Willshaw said some of the members doubted the wisdom of spending $50,000 or more to replace a system on which only 20 alarms were received in 1965.

Councilmen agreed to meet Saturday at 9 a. m. to inspect three sites picked as possible locations for a new sanitary landfill dump, replacing the present site in Bloomfield that has been in use since about 1958. The present dump may be filled to capacity by July, the mayor said.

In one site, the owner has offered a lease to the city, with the understanding he would take care of the operation of burying the refuse and maintaining the property in good order. The city's responsibility would be limited to collecting and hauling the refuse. The two other sites would be acquired by outright purchase.

Council also requested that Engineer George Bloomgren and Solicitor Joseph Cooper attend a caucus at the March 21 session to discuss the procedure for seeking federal aid for sewer projects in Gardendale and Beechwood and covering the East End Run.

Tax Chief May Return As Saxbe's Assistant

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio Tax Commissioner Gerald A. Donahue may return to the attorney general's office in a shuffling of some state officials.

Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe wants Donahue to return to his office to help with some major litigation and has asked permission from Gov. James A. Rhodes.

Rhodes named Donahue tax commissioner in December, 1964. Donahue had been Saxbe's first assistant.

Should Donahue returned temporarily to Saxbe's office, an acting tax commissioner might be named. Gail W. Porterfield, deputy tax commissioner, is mentioned as a possible acting commissioner.

'Forgotten' Meal Proves Costly In City Court Case

Charles Torick, 26, of 1793 Chester Ave., Wellsville, paid nearly $30 today in Municipal Court after Judge Samuel M. Chertoff convicted him on a charge of obtaining a $1.86 chicken dinner by "false pretenses" on Feb. 26 in the New York Restaurant.

The affidavit was signed by Mrs. Charlotte Wilkinson of Minerva St., a waitress, who said Torick and a friend consumed meals about 3 a. m. and then walked out without paying the check. Torick denied he was in the restaurant on the date in question, then later said he did not remember being there.

"I have to believe Mrs. Wilkinson," the judge told Torick. "Either you were too drunk to know where you were or you conveniently 'forgot'."

He fined Torick $20 and $7.50 costs and also ordered him to settle the unpaid check. Torick pleaded not guilty at arraignment Tuesday. He listed a number of Wellsville area taverns he visited about the general time Mrs. Wilkinson said he was in the restaurant.

slight pain in his chest, the officer took him to the physician's office. As they got out of the cruiser, Allmon said the pain had become more severe.

His condition worsened and he died about a half hour after arriving at the doctor's office.

Mr. Allmon was born near Salineville Oct. 18, 1895, a son of the late Emmet Allmon and Lucinda Allmon. He had retired as a machine operator in the coal mines. He was a member of the Calvary United Presbyterian Church in Salineville.

He leaves three daughters, Miss Lenora Allmon of East Liverpool, Mrs. Maxine Dunlap of Salineville and Mrs. Edna Sniveley of Malvern; two sons, Clarence Allmon of Wellsville and Robert Allmon of Salineville; two sisters, Mrs. Grace Anderson and Mrs. Bertha Lafferty, both of Salineville; two brothers, Harry Allmon and Frank Allmon, both of Dayton; 11 grandchildren, and four great-grandchildren.

Services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Kerr Funeral Home in Salineville by the Rev. Donald Ralston. Burial will be in Woodland Cemetery, Salineville.

Friends may call at the funeral home tonight, Thursday afternoon and night.

ported killed in battle, 61 were Americans. In the previous week, 506 Allied men were reported killed, including 109 Americans.

However, the report did not include U.S. Marine casualties in the hard fighting last weekend northwest of Quang Ngai, near the central coast.

Viet Cong dead climbed to 1,622, the highest toll of the year, and 193 Reds were captured, Allied spokesmen said. In the previous week, 1,122 Communists were reported killed and 92 captured.

The number of U.S. wounded dropped from 747 to 177. One man was listed missing in action. There were no missing the week before.

In the air war, U.S. Air Force, Marine and Navy planes sank 66 sampans and damaged 50 more, a spokesman said, after a forward air controller in a spotter plane sighted a flotilla of 150 Viet Cong sampans on waterways 10 miles northwest of Quang Ngai.

The attack was made near the battleground where U.S. Marines and South Vietnamese troops smashed the North Vietnamese 21st Regiment in Operation Utah over the weekend.

U.S. Air Force and Navy pilots flew 47 missions against North Viet Nam Tuesday, the spokesman reported.

Air Force fighter-bombers on 25 missions struck roads and bridges and returned for the second consecutive day to the Son La fuel storage area 123 miles west of Hanoi. Pilots reported they caught six trucks in the open and destroyed a highway bridge 22 miles north of the 17th Parallel frontier with South Viet Nam.

The Navy's 22 missions from the carriers Ranger and Kitty Hawk concentrated on communication lines in the North Vietnamese panhandle south and east of Vinh. A series of violent secondary explosions 30 miles northwest of Dong Hoi indicated the 7th Fleet fliers hit an ammunition dump, the spokesman said.

Strategic Air Command B52s returned this morning to Binh Duong Province for the second day in a row, hitting what was identified as a Viet Cong base camp 35 miles northwest of Saigon. A spokesman said three different Red regiments had used the camp since January.

The flattened house was unoccupied at the time.

Man Convicted Of Murder In 1st Of Three Trials

CLEVELAND (AP) — James Durden, 26, was convicted of first-degree murder early today by a common pleas court jury in the first of his three scheduled trials. The jury did not recommend mercy, making the death penalty mandatory. Sentencing was withheld.

Durden was convicted of the shooting death of Mrs. Ocie Clayton, 48, last Oct. 20. He still faces trial on murder indictments in the shooting deaths of Henry Sims, 68, and Willie Jones, 31.

Mrs. Clayton was the mother of Durden's common-law wife. According to testimony, she and Sims were killed when Durden became angry because he could not locate his common-law wife, who had left him.

Sling Shot Suspected In Damage At Market

SALINEVILLE — A warning against the use of sling shots was issued today by Police Chief Ray Keister, who continued an investigation into the destruction of a large plate glass window at a store construction project Monday.

The 6-by-8-foot glass section installed in the new Hillyer's IGA Market nearing completion along W. Main St. was broken about 3 p. m. Monday. The loss was set at $150.

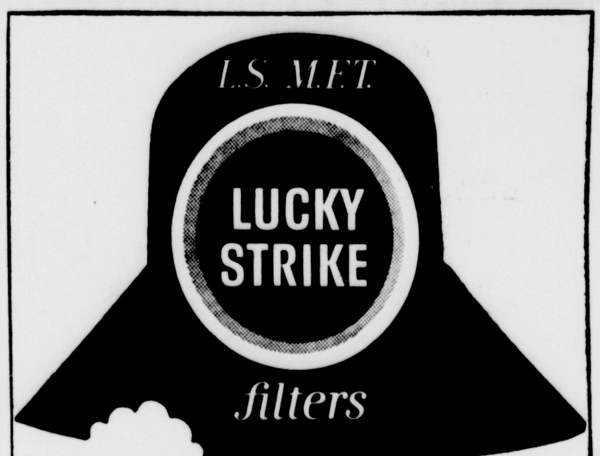

Marbles were found nearby and the officer said a sling shot may have been used by some youngsters. He said parents will be held responsible for any damage caused by children.

Common Pleas Court Disposes Of 49 Cases

LISBON — Forty-nine cases were disposed of in Common Pleas Court by Judges Raymond S. Buzzard and Joel H. Sharp in February, according to a monthly report by Carl L. Stacey, clerk of courts.

Same 'Yardstick' For All

Today's report from the office of Assessor Anthony Pirraglia that Hancock County properties have been assessed at an all - time high makes it even more difficult to understand the reasoning of two of the three Hancock commissioners when they voted recently to reduce Mr. Pirraglia's assessment figure for the Waterford Park race track.

Using the same yardstick which was applied to homes, business establishments and industries, he set the Waterford Park assessment at $1,592,000, based on 50 per cent of "true and actual" value in accordance with the West Virginia Reappraisal Act.

Commissioners James Finley of Weirton and William C. Graham of Chester didn't see eye to eye with the assessor, however, approving a lower figure of $1,040,000 as they sat as members of a board of equalization and review.

The third commissioner, Jack Evans, of New Cumberland, dissented, declaring the figures proposed by the assessor should be sustained.

What makes the action of Mr. Finley and Mr. Graham even more puzzling is the fact that Waterford Park, which last year was assessed at $673,000, since has erected what probably is the most modern clubhouse in the country at a cost of $1,600,000.

Questioned this week as to their reasoning, Mr. Graham had this to say: "The amount of increase over last year proposed by the tax assessor and state representative was excessive. As it was, we increased it 50 per cent."

Mr. Finley: "I have no statement. We made our final decision. It's all in the record."

Their statements may be satisfying to them, but they aren't to us.

Our feeling in no way should be interpreted as a campaign against the Waterford Park race track. The track's importance to the area in an economic and recreational sense cannot be properly overlooked.

But in view of the formula established by the State Reappraisal Act and in the interest of fairness to individual property owners and other business establishments the same yardstick should be applied to the race track that has been applied to them.

A reduction in the assessment at the track means so much tax revenue that is lost to Hancock County schools and community governments.

Mr. Pirraglia should stand firm on his original assessment and carry his case to higher state authority.

Welcome Recognition

The erection of markers at four approaches to the city pointing out that James Bennett founded the pottery industry here in 1840 should bolster the tourism phase of community planning now under way.

To those of us on the scene and to residents of neighboring communities, East Liverpool has become accepted for its pioneer role in the ceramic industry. But thousands of others who merely are passing through, it at present is nothing but a dot on the map with little meaning.

With the erection of the Ohio Historical Society markers, however, the situation should change, with deserved recognition resulting.

Those who have viewed similar markers already in use in other Ohio communities could not help but be impressed. They have a tendency to leave a lasting effect on the viewer.

And the fact that the Highway Department will maintain the markers should not be overlooked. Too many signs — resplendent at the time of their "birth" — have been allowed to "die" ingloriously because of lack of proper upkeep. This should not happen under the program which has been developed so successfully by the historical society.

A Choice Of Purposes

The medical researchers' reaction to the emotional campaign against abuses of animals kidnaped for scientific experiments now is being recorded.

The Bulletin of the National Society for Medical Research views with deepest alarm most of the proposed regulatory laws in Congress. The magazine does not say so directly, but its editors plainly suspect the campaigns behind the proposals have been fired up deliberately by disclosures of extreme cruelty on the part of a few unscrupulous dealers.

Regulatory laws in general have no effect on the quality of animal care, the magazine declares. What is needed is not restriction but encouragement for those people engaged in scientific research who want to do everything in their power to advance the welfare of mankind without violating the principles of humane treatment.

There is no place in proper research for animals weakened by starvation, abuse, or disease. Researchers are as determined to stop these abuses as anyone else could be. But at the same time they are determined to hold at bay those emotionally motivated people who would put the welfare of animals ahead of the welfare of mankind.

The Bulletin of the National Society for Medical Research admits the problem has become acute. It is fearful that antivivisectionists may run away with the issue and handicap science.

"The scientific community has reasons at least as strong as those of any group to want maximum progress in laboratory animal care," the magazine says. "The only difference is that, unlike some other people, scientists are greatly concerned that the programs to the maximum good and the least harm. It would be a monstrous tragedy if tens of thousands of human lives were sacrificed because an ill-considered program did more to impede life-saving research than to advance animal care."

Three Troublesome Amendments

In the outcry against the Supreme Court's latest decision to uphold the Constitution against states' rightists nothing will be said about repealing the 13th, 14th and 15th amendments.

These are the amendments that stick in the throats of states' rightists in the Deep South. Rulings on these amendments in recent years have infuriated states' rightists in the North and West. Their anger over the Supreme Court's assumption of its duty to protect the Union against separatists has boiled over in the campaign by some of them "to impeach Earl Warren."

But even in their hottest anger over what they claim to be illegal national power they never say a word about repealing the Reconstruction Amendments.

No. 13 abolished slavery. No. 14 decreed no state could make or enforce any law abridging the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States nor deprive any person of life, liberty, or property without due process of law. It also decreed that states denying voting rights to citizens should be deprived of representation in the House of Representatives, perhaps the most widely disregarded proviso, in the U.S. Constitution.

No. 15 spelled out that citizenship rights should not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any of the states on account of race, color, or previous condition of servitude.

Amendments 14 and 15, never accepted in principle by die-hard states' rightists in the South, have been disregarded deliberately.

Nevertheless, the Constitution does guarantee full citizenship rights, including voting, to all citizens. The U.S. Supreme Court, whose members are responsible for upholding the constitutional rights of all citizens, has no choice but to uphold the constitutionality of all laws passed for that purpose.

There can be no proper issue about this as would have been revealed long ago if an attempt had been made to repeal the Reconstruction Amendments. That never has been tried.

It has been more fruitful for irreconcilables and hair-splitting legalists to argue as if states' rights absolute and national rights should exist only in areas where there never had been a difference of opinion; i.e., as though the Civil War never had been started and lost by the Confederacy a century ago.

Created Equal

By Truman Twill

Some of the nation's best minds are trying to understand why so many people who should be signing up for medicare aren't showing up.

These people, it is pointed out by some of our top worriers, have been given every opportunity to take care of this task. They even have been warned that if they don't do it by March 31 their great good government will make them suffer for their negligence. They will have to wait 18 months for the next opportunity. Thus sayeth the GGG.

So what's the matter with them that they don't show up when the bell rings?

What do they expect public officials to do in a situation like this — come to get them in a taxi, honey?

Someday the nation's best minds had better try to understand something about this that so far has escaped their attention.

They need to realize that in this Great Society where people never had it so good there are millions of citizens who neither know nor care. There are people who never read anything, never talk about anything, never hear about anything.

Many of them cannot be reached by any means known to man. They have no comprehension. Nothing can pierce their apathy. They are living in the 20th century, but they are not with it.

They contradict a proposition that has bemused Americans for upward of two centuries — the proposition that universal education can upgrade the composition of human society.

All that education can do is upgrade the educable, which it has done on a wider scale than ever before. It cannot reach the non-educable.

This is where part of the mystery lies in regard to people who do not react to information. They cannot react.

The other part of the mystery lies in other factors that never have been given official credence by the nation's best minds.

One of these is the total indifference of many citizens. They don't care. Another is perennial confusion, frequently encouraged and generated by those who know who use confusion to further their own purposes. Another is physical disablity. Many people cannot see and hear well enough to comprehend; many can do nothing because of inability to move under their own steam.

The politicos who run the Great Good Government would be in trouble, sure enough, if they ever acknowledged what they all know to be sure, wouldn't they — that all men are created equal but men don't come out equal in the course of a lifetime?

Odd Facts

According to one late estimate, America now has a smaller proportion of widows under 45 years of age than at any other time since 1890, this being due to the simple fact that men are now living longer.

There are nearly five million operating businesses of all kinds in the nation, according to the last published figures of the Dept. of Commerce.

How About Your 'Friend' Over There?

Questionnaire To Tell The Story

By Victor Riesel

There are dark days coming for those unionists who guarded their locals as though they were noble baronies and handed down memberships to next of kin and other blood relatives as though these were royal titles.

Victor Riesel

Deep in the sinews (meaning muscles) of the federal government, doom is being slowly prepared for the closed unions in the heavily paid construction labor field. Doom will come in the shape of a form.

This will be a questionnaire — the first in history. It will record the racial, sexual, ethnical and other makeup of every local with more than 100 members.

For those $4- to $8-an-hour locals, whose national leaders constantly blast everyone else with charges of social sins, it will be very embarrassing.

Just how embarrassing has been discovered by the Labor Department's Office of Federal Contract Compliance, which is one of a trio of bureaus in something called the Joint Reporting Committee.

"COMPLIANCE'S" INSPECTORS have been riding the circuit scrutinizing any construction which has a federal dollar behind it. They've gone city by city. Their reports, added to other information, have been heaved into the hopper of a still crude report.

Elementary as it is, it discloses that there are less than 5,000 Negroes in skilled construction unions with a membership of 3 million.

It reveals that in many major cities, such as Pittsburgh, Cleveland, New York, Cincinnati, and right across the land, some unions of skilled workers have not a single Negro on their rosters or in their apprenticeship programs. Some have two or three. Ten or twelve are considered high indeed, in a five-year program.

No one in government knows the exact count, though a high Labor Department official tells me that even the 5,000 figure appears too big an estimate.

I HAVE SPENT more than two months attempting to estimate the total of Negroes in skilled unionized jobs. There will be no total until the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission officials, under Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., formalize the wording of the survey.

They already have accomplished this for the form which went out recently to 140,000 firms which employ more than 50 persons. The employer data must be in by March 31 — showing how many Negroes, other minority people, and women are on the job.

Now it is the union's turn. After the form is drafted, it will be submitted to the Bureau of the Budget. Then there will be a public hearing.

Though not yet finalized, the drafters' policy appears certain. It will seek out the "gateway unions."

"In essence," I'm told by a spokesman for Mr. Roosevelt, "it says that any union which serves as a gateway to employment will be required to file such a report.

"THE COMMISSION'S actual words (are) 'any union which by referral agreement or hiring hall or any other system has effective control over the hiring process . . . .' "

When the "gateway unions' " reporting form is cleared through all its governmental hurdles, it will require such unions to report annually a census of its membership by race, sex, national origin, etc.

The government also will require such unions to report the number of persons applying for membership, or applying for jobs and how many of them are referred to jobs during a specific period. Each will have to be identified by race and sex and ethnic origin.

Thus there no longer will be any membership secrets. Apprenticeship practices will be similarly reported — as well as the test given for entrance to the labor - management apprentice classes and for actual membership in the unions themselves.

These forms will not be ready for four months. They will not be filed until the fall. Then will come the crackdown to force the integration — about which so much is said in convention resolutions.

We'll see then if the government is applauded as loudly as the vote-and-forget resolutions are greeted by the fraternal gatherings.

Terpsichore is enjoying an unprecedented boom in the United States. It is estimated that between six and eight million Americans will spend about $100 million this year on learning the rudiments of dancing.

The largest plants in the world are some of the seaweeds found in the Pacific Ocean, some of which have stalks of more than 500 feet in length.

Sun tan results from the effort of the outer skin to protect the delicate inner skin of the human body. Upon exposure to the sun, the blood comes to the surface and deposits red cells. These break down to make the brown pigment, melanin. When enough of this has been deposited, tanning results.

During the Middle Ages, the year was made to begin at various dates and it wasn't until 1752, in England, that January was officially made the first month of the year by Act of Parliament.

The shrew, one of the smallest animals in the world, eats a greater amount of concentrated food for its size than any other animal. If deprived of food, the shrew will die of starvation within a half-day.

The duration of life of the average housefly varies from 10 to 15 days. Experiments have been made, however, that reveal the fact that the longest life of a fly is about 62 days.

Party Split

By David Lawrence

It's Embarrassing In Policy Sense

A party split in the United States in the midst of a war crisis is an embarrassment in the conduct of foreign policy. It couldn't happen in Great Britain, where dissident members of a political party might soon find themselves turned out of office in an election held immediately to decide whether a vote of confidence should be given to the incumbent party.

David Lawrence

President Johnson's policies are largely supported by the Republican party, while his own party is divided and some members are engaged in moves that are making it difficult to carry on a war in which, it now is expected, around 400,000 Americans will ultimately be engaged.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee, which is openly showing hostility to the administration by conducting hearings with an emphasis on pronouncements against the government's policies, is dominated by the Democratic party. The big question for the American people to decide is whether the Foreign Relations Committee should be used as a tool to undermine the prestige of the administration in foreign affairs.

The only way the voters in American could relieve the present situation is by electing enough Republicans to the Senate next November to cause the Democratic party in the Senate to recommend changes in the personnel of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. This requires a majority vote of the Senate.

UNFORTUNATELY, only a third of the Senate' members come up for election this fall, so there is no way for the voters to record themselves against those dissenters on foreign policy who happened not to be up for election this time. If the nation elected a Republican House of Representatives, this would serve as a warning and have its effect on the Senate.

It's not unprecedented for one party to have control of either or both houses of Congress while the head of the other party is in the White House. Lyndon Johnson, as majority leader of the Senate during six of the eight years of the Eisenhower administration when the Democrats had a majority in both houses of Congress, cooperated with the President, particularly on foreign policy. The Republicans this time could furnish another example of cooperation with a president of the opposite party.

The latest issue which the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has decided to take up is the possibility of war with Red China.

THE ADMINISTRATION has consistently made clear that it has no intention of escalating the war, prominent members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee evidently believe that some such development is imminent. Yet, as recently as March 3, Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara—in answer to the direct question, "Are we not facing an increasing risk of war with China?"—said:

"We have done everything humanly possible—both militarily and diplomatically—to make it unmistakably clear that there's no justification for Communist China to involve itself in the war in Viet Nam. Just as our policy in Viet Nam is bottomed upon a disavowal of any intention to destroy the Hanoi regime or to seize its territory, our policy rests equally — if not against China.

"The United States would have no quarrel with a China—even a Communist China—that would not seek to control the lives and the destinies of the nations and peoples on its borders. We would have no quarrel with a China that would devote its enormous energies to the betterment of the livelihood of its own people.

"BUT COMMUNIST CHINA today and in recent years has not been such a nation. It has sought instead to foment revolutions against established governments, not (only in such border lands as Thailand and South Viet Nam but in Africa and Latin America as well. It has engaged in conventional war—in direct aggression and threat of aggression—against India, the Republic of China and the Republic of Korea. . .

"I assure you that no efforts have been spared—and none will be spared—in direct and in indirect diplomacy, in public and in private—to communicate to the leaders of Communist China that America's limited objectives in Viet Nam pose no threat to them. Our words on this matter are loud, clear and sincere. We urge the leaders of China to listen and to understand."

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has ignored the above statements and instead has given widespread publicity to the specious argument that the United States has not been a friend of China and now is threatening it with war. The fact is that, before mainland China became Communist, the United States again and again gave support to China in world affairs.

Johnson's Viet Critics 'Giving More Support'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's senior Republican said today President Johnson's efforts to avoid escalation of the Viet Nam war have led critical senators to give him "more support than we did some time ago."

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said in an interview he wanted to give Johnson credit for his repeated attempts to avoid any reckless expansion of the war.

Aiken was among those who joined with Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield last January in warning of the dangers of a massive Southeast Asian war.

"I think we are giving the President more support than we did some time ago," he said. "He seems to be keeping our military efforts within bounds."

A similar but more guarded view was voiced by another critic of Johnson's Viet Nam policies, Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn.

In a separate interview, Gore said he is giving "uneasy" support to the President's present course.

"I hope and believe that the President's course is now one of prudence and caution," Gore said. "It keeps one nervous, however, to realize that every act of escalation has been taken only after bland assurances have been given that we seek no wider war."

Johnson got some support Tuesday — plus a word of caution — from an expert on China, A. Doak Barnett, acting director of Columbia University's East Asian Institute.

Barnett told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the United States should continue to fight Communist subversion and insurrection and stand on its pledge to defend Formosa, capital of the Nationalist Chinese government.

In Viet Nam, Barnett advocated "continued military and political action."

On the other hand, Barnett said, "we not only should not escalate" in Viet Nam, "but should de-escalate."

"It would be a dangerous error to conclude that Communist China would not risk major war if it genuinely felt that its vital interests were threatened," he told the committee which opened its hearings on Red China Tuesday.

Barnett suggested that the United States should acknowledge the Communist regime as the government of mainland China and support Red China's admission to the United Nations, along with Nationalist China. The United States also should exchange diplomatic representatives with Red China, he said.

"I strongly believe," he told the committee, "that the time has come — even though the United States is now engaged in a bitter struggle in Viet Nam — for our government to alter its policy toward Communist China and adopt a policy of containment but not isolation."

A contrasting view on Red China was offered by Walter S. Robertson, who was assistant secretary of state under John Foster Dulles.

Robertson told a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee U.S. recognition of Red China would "greatly magnify our own problems of resisting Communist expansion."

American recognition of the Red China government, he said, would "bring prestige and power to a regime that threatens every principle to which America gives allegiance — it would increase its capacity for making war at a time it is planning war."

Right now, Robertson said, Red China is keeping North Viet Nam away from the conference table and blocking all efforts to find peace in Southeast Asia.

"The Communists apparently feel that if they hold out long enough," he said, "the concessions due to our divisions, self-criticisms and impatience will be made on our side."

Chertoff Names Consultant For Questions On Alcoholism

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, acting in his role as international president of the North American Judges Association, today named a Colorado attorney as special consultant to the association on the legal aspects of alcoholism.

He named to the post Reed G. McDougall of Colorado Springs, an executive of Shepard's Citations, a law book publishing concern. McDougall has had 10 years' experience in counseling and rehabilitation of alcoholics.

Expert advice is needed in the field because of an impending crisis in the lower court system brought about by court decisions which held that alcoholics cannot be prosecuted on charges of public intoxication, the judge said. Since more than 50 per cent of arrests in the U. S. involve alcohol offenses, a substantial segment of court cases is affected, he said.

"Alcoholics are deemed to be sick persons," Judge Chertoff commented. "They need attention, but if the judge is prohibited from processing them under criminal law, what can he do with them? Where can he send them? Few communities now maintain treatment facilities. Perhaps cities will be forced to provide adequate treatment and housing centers for these people."

He pointed out that judges now face the problem of determining which persons charged with drunkenness are alcoholics and should be classed as "sick" and which are ordinary drunks.

Chertoff said the consultant was named because the association expects an "avalanche" of requests for help from its members. He said McDougall will launch an emergency program to provide information and guidance for the jurists.

McDougall is a graduate of the law school at Washington & Lee University at Lexington, Va. Recognized as an expert in the legal aspects of alcoholism, he has directed community programs in the field and has been a consultant to state agencies. He also lectures on methods of treatment and rehabilitation for alcoholics.

Magazine Plans To Publish Kent Aide's Research

James W. Thompson, instructor in Physical Science at the Kent State Academic Center, here, has received word that the results of his research project will be published this summer in "American Chemical Society," an international periodical for chemists.

Thompson, while doing research at Purdue University, discovered pentaflurosulfanidadine amine, a chemical liquid that boils at 39 degrees centigrade and reacts slowly with water.

The compound has not yet been explored for its practical uses. Its analysis is still in the theoretical stage. Because he did conduct the research at Purdue, Thompson assigned to the university patent rights on his discovery.

New FCC Rules For CATV Take Effect April 18

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission says its new regulations governing community antenna television CATV will go into effect April 18 for most of the nation's 1,650 CATV systems.

Regulations for the other systems — which use microwave facilities — will go into effect 60 days later, the FCC said Tuesday in an 86-page order spelling out details of its new rules.

The regulations were announced Feb. 15, when the FCC assumed jurisdiction over virtually all of the CATV industry. Systems using microwave facilities have been under FCC jurisdiction since last June.

A dissent to the Feb. 15 ruling also was published Tuesday. FCC commissioner Robert T. Bartley said the agency has no authority in the CATV field and should seek legislation before taking any action.

Bills have been introduced in Congress both to prevent the FCC from exercising any control over CATV systems and to confirm the FCC's authority.

15 Mill Towns Get $5.5 Million 'Booster Shot'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Fifteen mill towns in Allegheny County got a $5.5 million booster shot to help keep them off their financial bottoms Tuesday when six major Pittsburgh Manufacturers agreed to continue payment of now unwarranted taxes.

Maurice Louik, Allegheny County solicitor, said that the six firms have reaffirmed their earlier agreement to continue paying real estate taxes on machinery.

The school districts of these 15 communities would receive the bulk of the taxes paid locally and to the county on $130 million in machinery assessments, he said.

The firms, U.S. Steel Corp., Blaw-Knox Corp., Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co., Allegheny Ludlum Steel Corp., Westinghouse Electric Corp., and the Westinghouse Air Brake Co., made an earlier agreement with the county, but the validity of it was doubted by a Common Pleas Court judge.

Judge Homer S. Brown said upon learning of the new agreement that since the right to tax is given solely to the legislative body of the government, such an agreement is entirely without legal sanction.

"If the companies here involved desire to make a voluntary contribution in lieu of a tax statute, I don't know of anyone who could object under the present posture of the case before me," the judge said.

Six out of 10 residents of the U.S. now live in cities — more than double the number at the turn of the century.

Johnson's Okay On U.S. Judges Measure Waited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has completed action on the second major increase in the federal judiciary in five years and sent the bill to the White House for President Johnson's signature.

The measure, which received final Senate approval Tuesday, adds 10 judgeships to circuit courts of appeals and 35 judgeships to district courts.

Federal judges serve for life. Appeals judges get $33,000 a year and district judges make $30,000 annually.

The bill would add two judges to the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals, with jurisdiction over Ohio, Kentucky, Tennessee and Michigan, and would provide two additional district court judges for Ohio.

Battle Of Kentucky Shaping Up

Hilltopper Squad Almost Unknown

By TED MEIER
Associated Press Sports Writer

That is to say the University of Kentucky Wildcats, the top-ranked team in the Associated Press college basketball poll, will meet the Western Kentucky Hilltoppers in the Mid-East regional final of the NCAA championship tourney at Iowa City, Iowa, Saturday night if all goes well.

There are just two obstacles.

The Wildcats, 24-1, have to defeat Dayton, 23-4, and the Hilltoppers, 24-2, have to overcome Michigan, 17-7, in Friday's doubleheader at Iowa City.

The Hilltoppers, who crushed Chicago Loyola 105-86 at Kent, Ohio, Tuesday in a first-round NCAA game, would like nothing better than to meet Kentucky's Southeastern Conference champions.

Coach John Oldham and his players have felt slighted all season because Coach Adolph Rupp and his UK team took the headlines with a 23-game winning streak.

"We've lost only two games, but hardly anyone seems to have heard of us," Oldham said recently.

The Iowa City doubleheader is just one of four regional get-togethers Friday and Saturday in the NCAA.

In the East first round at Raleigh, N. C., Friday, it's Duke, 23-3, vs. St. Joseph's, Pa., 23-4, and Syracuse, 21-5, vs. Davidson 21-5.

In the Midwest first round Friday at Lubbock, Tex., it's Kansas, 22-3, vs. Southern Methodist, 16-8, and Cincinnati, 21-5, vs. Texas Western 24-1.

In the Far West first round Friday at Los Angeles, it's U. of Pacific, 22-4, vs. Utah, 18-6, and Oregon State, 20-6, vs. Houston 22-5.

Friday's winners play at the same sites Saturday and the four survivors move on to the national semifinals and final at College Park, Md., next week, March 18-19.

The NIT, the other major post-season tournament, opens Thursday night in New York with Temple, 20-6, vs. Virginia Tech, 19-4, and De Paul, 18-7, vs. NYU, 15-9.

The NCAA small-college quarter-finals start today a Evansville, Ind.

Durett Nets 33, Schenley Takes Crown

By The Associated Press

Schenley high school won its second straight title in the Pittsburgh City League (Dist. 8) on Tuesday to highlight PIAA scholastic basketball district playoff action across the state.

Schenley, sparked by Ken Durett's 33 points, won an easy 87-52 victory over Allegheny to win a spot in the interdistrict tournament.

The defending champs took the lead at the outset and never relinquished it. Keith Edmonds was top scorer for the losers, as he tallied 31 of their 52 points.

Also Tuesday the QPIAL (Dist. 7) completed its quarterfinals round of Class A playoffs with Mount Lebanon defeating North Union 79-54 and McKeesport beating Fox Chapel 76-61. In the semifinals Thursday and Friday Uniontown will play Farrell and McKeesport will meet Mount Lebanon.

In other Class A action, Dallas downed Dunmore 74-65 in Dist. 2 to move into the finals Friday against Plymouth. The championship game will be played in Scranton.

In Dist. 6, defending champion Altoona eliminated Lock Haven 62-37 and moved into the finals against Catasauqua. That game is scheduled for Saturday night at Harrisburg's Farm Show Arena.

In the PICIAA playoffs, Green Pong Notre Dame defeated Reading Holy Name 70-39 for the Allentown Diocese Class B championship. Here is a rundown on top action tonight.

Dist. 3 Class A—two undefeated teams, Reading and Susquehanna Twp., square off in the Class A semifinals. In another semifinal contest, Chambersburg meets Conestoga Valley.

Dist. 9 Class C—Austin meets Clarion for the championship.

Stengel Surprised After Election To Hall Of Fame

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — You could look it up. From now on it will be right there in the book, like Ned in the first reader. Ol' Case is in the Baseball Hall of Fame.

It really is treeee--mendous.

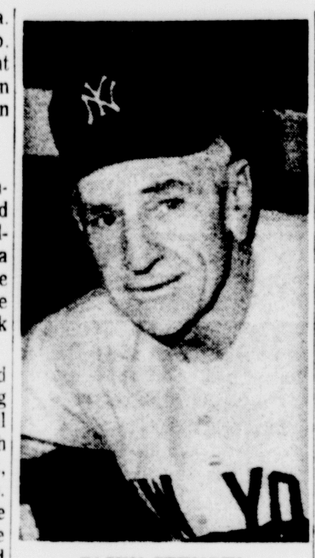

They told Stengel he was gonna give some kind of an award to George Weiss out at the ballpark Tuesday. He showed up a little before noon with his wife Edna and Harold Weissman, the press agent for the New York Mets.

Casey and Weiss had attended some civic breakfast for visiting baseball people and he was all dressed up for the occasion with a neat brown suit, white shirt, tan tie and a blue Mets cap. Edna looked as pretty as the day they were married and she was carrying some fresh red roses.

It was all hush-hush. Nobody was supposed to know but everybody, except Casey, did know. Ford Frick, the fella that used to be the commissioner before they put that general in there, sneaked down from the golf course to break the news.

The place was jumpin' with newspaper fellas. The Mets regulars, St. Pete writers, wire service men, radio and television guys with their cameras and tape recorders. And the news photographers too. It was just like it used to be before the World Series.

But Ol' Case is used to crowds. The writers eat up that mumbo-jumbo talk they call Stengelese. This was a little more than usual but not too much to be suspicious. Weiss lined up beside Casey and Edna and Frick began his spiel:

CASEY STENGEL
Enters Hall Of Fame.

"I want to announce that by unanimous vote of the Veterans Committee, Charles Dillon Stengel is now in the Hall of Fame," said Frick.

When you're 75 and you've been in baseball since 1910 and would be yet if you hadn't broke your hip and had to retire last August, you really aren't surprised at anything.

For years Casey has been saying, "You gotta remember that a lot of people my age are dead." That includes a lotta people who might have been in the Hall of Fame but never made it.

"When you're alive at the present time," Stengel said, "it's a nice thing to know that you done something in your life that people thought was worth while.

"So many men done amazing things it makes you feel regrets that four or five others are not in it. I feel sorry for the others that didn't get in."

Now, wasn't that just like Stengel. He'll be worrying about the others on one of the big days of his life.

Edna was beaming. "This is greater than winning the World Series in 1949," she said. "It couldn't be greater than this at Cooperstown."

Edna remembered all about the 1949 World Series because that was Casey's first with the New York Yankees. They said they brought him in for laughs while they rebuilt the ball club but he won the pennant in 1949 and every year for the next five — and took the World Series each time, too.

His record of 10 pennants in 12 years with the Yanks until they fired him because he was "too old" in 1960 was one of the big things in getting him elected.

But you can't overlook the part the Mets played in this. He didn't win with the Mets. In fact, he couldn't get them out of last place in his four years as manager. But they became the Amazin' Mets and people broke down the door to pay to see them in Shea Stadium.

"I am positive the club is on way to getting out of last place and we'll go very far upward," Stengel told the nice old ladies and gentlemen from Iowa and Michigan and Massachusetts who cheered the announcement of his election.

It was quite a day in St. Petersburg and it will be quite a day up at Cooperstown, N.Y., July 25 when Casey and Ted Williams will be inducted formally.

He Will Inherit A Million

Young Hurler Not Worried Over $, Wants To Pitch

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

So who needs bonuses?

Certainly not Lee Meyers, a 19-year-old rookie left-hander who hopes to land a berth on the Chicago Cubs' pitching staff.

Let Sandy Koufax, Don Drysdale, Jim Maloney and Mudcat Grant hold out for the big salaries. Lee Meyers isn't interested in the numbers on his contract. He just wants to pitch in the big leagues.

There's a reason, of course, for Lee Meyers' lack of interest in money. In two years, when he's 21, he'll have as much of the green stuff as he needs and more.

Meyers is the heir to $1 million left by his grandfather, Paul S. Meyers, former owner of McCall's Magazine. What's more, he stands to collect another million when he reaches 30 — "or something like that."

The young southpaw wasn't anxious for the news of his wealth to get around.

"That's the last thing I wanted to be known," the rookie told newsmen at the Cubs' Long Beach, Calif., training camp. "The one thing I want in life is to be a major league pitcher."

Meyers was signed out of high school by the California Angels and had a 6-4 record in 58 innings for Quad Cities of the Midwest League in 1964. The Cubs got him on waivers a year ago and he was 7-11 in 156 innings with Wenatchee, Wash., in the Northwest League last winter.

Leo Durocher, the Cubs' new manager, considers Meyers a good prospect and has turned him over to pitching coach Freddie Fitzsimmons, whose No. 1 chore is reducing the youngster's earned run average which was a whopping 5.08 last year.

If the project fails, there's always that million.

Frank Robinson never inherited $1 million and he doesn't expect to either. But he'll get along quite nicely on the $62,500 he got for signing with the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday.

Robinson, who came to Baltimore in the big winter trade with Cincinnati, was the Orioles' last holdout and became the highest-paid player in Baltimore history when he signed the huge contract.

The veteran outfielder whacked 33 home run and drove in 113 runs with a .296 batting average for the Reds last year.

Wills, who stole 94 bases for the World Champions last year, won't present as much of a problem for the Dodgers as star pitchers Koufax and Drysdale, who are reported holding out for a $1-million package.

"I had no idea they were going to ask that much," the 33-year-old shortstop said. "I don't think I'm worth that much."

Paul Trying To Trade For Ralph Terry

MEXICO CITY (AP) — General manager Gabe Paul of the Cleveland Indians says he is trying without success to make a trade for pitcher Ralph Terry, one of the Indians' two holdouts.

"Sure, there are teams that would like to have him," Paul said upon his arrival here Tuesday night, "but I won't make any deal that won't help our club."

Terry wants the $7,000 he said he lost when the New York Yankees traded him to the Indians last year.

The Tribe's other holdout is utility infielder Billy Moran who says he wants to be traded to another team where he will have a chance to win a job as a regular.

Paul said he talked to executives of all the major league teams training in Florida during his four days there, but isn't close to making a trade.

The Indians were scheduled to meet the Mexico Reds here Tuesday night in their first exhibition game, but the game was rained out.

Carter Wins Over McClure

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — One punch swung the balance again as Rubin (Hurricane) Carter, middleweight contender from Paterson, N. J., narrowly outpointed Toledo's Wilberg (Skeeter) McClure in 10 rounds Tuesday night for the second time in two months.

McClure, former Olympic champion, was ahead on the two judges' and the referee's cards until two minutes into the seventh round — his best round up to that point.

Then wham! The fourth-ranked Carter, 157 pounds, whipped a hard right to Skeeter's chops and down went the 161-pound fighting schoolteacher.

McClure rose at the count of seven and weathered a barrage that staggered him three times before the bell.

Carter, who won a split decision over McClure in Chicago on the strength of a first round knockdown, bolstered his hopes of a second crack at the middleweight crown worn by Dick Tiger.

Brown To Look Over Planned Stadium Site

CINCINNATI (AP) — Paul Brown, who hopes to operate a pro football team in Cincinnati, is to visit here next week to look over the site of the proposed stadium.

Brown is head of a group seeking to land a National Football League franchise for the city. He is a former coach of the Cleveland Browns.

As Antitrust Suit Continues

Braves Refused To Make Changes To Help Stadium

By HARRY CHANDLER

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The State of Wisconsin continued its frontal assault today on the claim of baseball attorneys that the Braves' decision to move to Atlanta was influenced by dissatisfaction with local conditions.

Two top Milwaukee County officials, testifying Tuesday in the state's antitrust suit against the Braves and the National League, said that repeated offers were made to the Braves in 1964 to rewrite the stadium rental contract to delete any unsatisfactory provisions.

And, they said, offers were made to impose curbs on ticket selling by private individuals around the stadium concourse and the carrying in of beer by fans for consumption on the premises.

But Braves' officials dismissed the offers as unnecessary and denied any commitment to move the franchise, said the witnesses.

Three months later, it was testified, Braves' directors sought and obtained league approval to switch the club to Atlanta, triggering the antitrust suit now being tried before Circuit Judge Elmer W. Roller.

County Executive John Doyne, Milwaukee County's top elected official, quoted William Bartholomay, the Braves' board chairman, and President John McHale as saying in midsummer of 1964 that the club's contract for County Stadium was satisfactory.

"They assured me they had not made up their minds about moving," Doyne said. "They said they planned to re-evaluate their position at the end of the season, and I would be first to know."

But he was not the first to know, Doyne said. Braves' directors had already voted to move the franchise when McHale called him to tell of the decision.

Doyne's account of the offers to change the Braves' stadium contract was corroborated by William Anderson, the County Stadium manager and recreation director. That official recounted similar offers by County Park Commission members and the Sports Committee of the County Board as well as by himself.

Baylor Hits Season High But LA Loses

NEW YORK (AP) — They had cheered the man with No. 22 on his blue uniform many times in the years past because he played great basketball — and there he was on the Madison Square Garden court doing it again, and again they were cheering.

After the game Tuesday night the man stood in an almost deserted dressing room and said:

"I'm in real good shape. Everything is going fine."

The man was Elgin Baylor of the Los Angeles Lakers, and he was talking about his gimpy knees which in many games this season made him just a shadow of what he was in seasons past —a National Basketball Association super star.

But not too many minutes earlier he had been a super star again, though the Lakers lost to the New York Knickerbockers 133-132 in overtime and he had made a bad pass which cost his team a final shot at victory.

"I went to throw it down the court and it slipped out of my hand and it floated," Baylor said of the pass which was intercepted by New York's Dave Stallworth.

But the pass couldn't dim his performance. He scored a game high of 46 points — his previous high game this season was 37 last Sunday — and grabbed 17 rebounds, also a game high.

The loss kept the Lakers from clinching the Western Division title since Baltimore beat San Francisco 130-109. In the only other game, the Philadelphia 76ers opened up a half-game lead in the East over idle Boston by defeating St. Louis 112-106 before the Knicks' game.

New Judges Slated

Girl In Jim Brown Case Has Daughter

CLEVELAND (AP) — A girl who has named fullback Jim Brown of the Cleveland Browns defendant in a paternity suit gave birth to an 8-pound, 15-ounce daughter Tuesday night at St. Luke's Hospital.

The mother, Miss Brenda Ayres, 18, and baby were reported in good condition. Miss Ayres signed a formal complaint against Brown at a preliminary hearing on Feb. 2. A judge said a trial would tentatively be held in April.

Kentucky Voted National Crown

By The Associated Press

Kentucky's Wildcats, who narrowly missed a perfect regular season, scored in a runaway in the final Associated Press major-college basketball poll for 1965-66.

The Wildcats were voted No. 1 by 39 of the 48 sports writers and broadcasters on AP's nationwide panel. Duke climbed back into the second spot ahead of Texas Western, which, like Kentucky, suffered its only loss of the season last Saturday night.

Kansas's Big Eight champions jumped from sixth to fourth, St. Joseph's of Pennsylvania also advanced two places to fifth, and Cincinnati climbed from 10th to seventh.

Others in the final rankings are Loyola of Chicago, which slipped from fourth to sixth; Vanderbilt, which dropped three spots to eighth; Michigan in ninth and Western Kenucky in 10th.

Michigan, winner of the Big Ten title, regained a place in the ratings and Western Kentucky made the Top Ten for the first time.

Voting was based on games through Monday night.

Kentucky was toppled by Tennessee 69-62 Saturday night and Texas Western lost to Seattle 74-72.

Basketball On Ice New Game In China

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China said today it has invented a new game — basketball on ice.

The official New China News Agency, monitored here, said the game "combines the skater's speed with the accuracy and the complex maneuvers of basketball.

"The fact that all shooting, passing and dribbling are executed on the move adds much to the gracefulness of the game," the agency said.

Dove Honored As MVP At Ohio State Banquet

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Coach Fred Taylor took the raps—at himself—and Bob Dove took the bows at Ohio Statee University's season's-end basketball banquet Tuesday night.

Taylor blamed his worst season (11-13) at OSU in part on his own "worst coaching job in eight years."

Dove was honored by his teammates as most valuable player and honorary captain for the past season. The 6-foot-6 senior pivotman graduates this year along with Andy Ahijevych, Marv Gregory and starter Al Peters.

Taylor chided himself for "letting things slide in practice hoping they'd change . . . for the team making mistakes Monday night (in the finale against Purdue) it was making in December . . . for missed layups—37 in nine games. . . ."

But he promised that things will be different in 1966-67, including returnees Bill Hosket and Ron Sepic to be seeen "in a little different light."

Presumably the coach was hinting that cornerman Hosket, 6-foot-7 sophomore from Dayton, will play center next season while Sepic, a forward as a sophomore switched to guard as a junior, will return to forward.

Taylor noted that Hosket led the team in scoring with 18.5 points a game, in rebounds with 314 and in field goal shooting with .486.

Toledo Places 2 Cagers On All-Conference Team

By HAL PARIS
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three seniors, including Bob Aston and Jim Cox of Toledo, were named today to the All-Mid-American Conference basketball team.

The selections, made by the league's seven coaches, also included senior Jerry Peirson, Miami's defensive standout; junior Ken Fowlkes of Ohio University and sophomore Walt Piatkowski of Bowling Green.

Piatkowski, a 6-foot-8 product of Toledo, was the only first year man to crash the MAC's dream team. He scored 227 points and won the loop scoring crown with an 18.92 average.

There were no unanimous choices and no repeaters from last year's squad.

The only guard named to the first two teams was Marshall's Bob Redd, a 6-3 sophomore. Rounding out the second unit were seniors Fred Albrecht and Doug Sims of Kent State; senior Jim Patterson of Miami's Mid-Am champions and soph Reggie Lacefield of Western Michigan.

Cox and Aston finished just behind Piatkowski in the scoring race with 18.83 averages. Fowlkes was the league's fifth best shooter on a 17.3 average.

Peirson, rated one of the finest defensive players in the loop, regularly guarded the opposition's top shooter.

Honorable mention recognition went to Bill Backensto, Toledo; Nick Aloi and Rich Hendrix, Bowling Green; Phil Snow, Miami; Mkie Hammond and Dave Brown, Ohio U.; Bob Blohm and John Scholtens, Western Michigan; Larry Horner, Kent State; and Tom Langfitt and George Stone, Marshall.

Baltimore Man Announces Purchase Of Charles Town

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Baltimore drug store chain owner Robert Stofberg claims he and his associates have purchased Charles Town race track in the Eastern Panhandle. No price was disclosed.

Stofberg said Tuesday he, Irving T. Schwartz and Irving Kevens had settled out of court with Saul Silberman, president of Tropical Park in Miami, Fla., who had claimed to have the first purchase option.

Silberman had instituted a suit in the Jefferson County Circuit Court to settle the matter. But Stofberg said the case was settled out of court when his group gave Silberman "a sum of money for the dismissal of his suit."

Silberman was unavailable for comment.

Several months ago, Stofberg said he had purchased the three-quarter mile track for $5.2 million from Charles Town Properties, Inc. He said the purchase was subject to approval of the State Racing Commission.

The commission heard arguments from both Stofberg and Silberman during a special hearing last April. At the time, Stofberg contended Silberman's option had expired.

Silberman took the position that his option was still valid and said he planned to buy the track. He then instituted the court suit.

Cincy Boss Predicts Rose Will Be Great At 3rd Base

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Cincinnati manager Don Heffner predicts a great future for Pete Rose at third base.

"Pete's not going to be a good third baseman . . . he's gonna be a great one," Heffner said Tuesday after watching Rose in an intra-squad game.

Heffner was particularly pleased with a play made by Rose in the game which was marred by seven errors.

"You won't see a finer play in midseason than Pete made at the expense of Chico Ruiz in the seventh inning," Heffner said.

Ruiz was at bat and laid down a bunt when he saw Rose was playing deep. But Rose charged the ball, picked it up on the run and without straightening up, threw out the speedy Ruiz.

The intrasquad game was the last as the Reds head into the exhibition schedule Thursday against the American League's Kansas City Athletics at nearby Bradenton.

Kelso Owner May Not Race Champ Again

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Richard C. duPont said Tuesday night it is possible that Kelso, five times Horse of the Year, may never race again.

But she said the extent of the 9 - year - old gelding's injuries won't be known until today.

Trainer Carl Hanford said that Kelso almost certainly will not race at Gulfstream, where he had hoped to become the first thoroughbred to top the $2-million mark in earnings.

Hanford said Kelso rapped his ankle several weeks ago and the trouble developed slowly. When it was discovered Monday, Kelso was scratched from the $50,000-added Donn Handicap at Gulfstream. Since then, Hanford said, doctors discovered the injury was more serious than it seemed at first.

Kelso has earned $1,977,896 in his brilliant career.

Clay, Terrell Fight Slated For Toronto

TORONTO (AP) — Cassius Clay and Ernie Terrell finally have found a home-away-from-home for their heavyweight title showdown but the mental road-work involved in the search appears to have backed both fighters into a dark corner.

Toronto received sanction as the site of the March 29 bout Tuesday, ending a road-show that began in New York and touched bases throughout the United States and Canada. Contracts were signed Tuesday night on behalf of the fighters following approval of the match by Leslie Rowntree, Ontario's labor minister.

Clay, generally recognized as the world champion, and Terrell, the World Boxing Association titleholder, received the good news with mixed emotions. Both are happy the hunt is over but both admitted to being on the ropes when word of the approval reached them.

"They got a fight for us and, in a way I'm relieved," Terrell said at his training camp in Pleasantville, N.J. "But they made such a joke out of it that it disgusts you."

"It's been all mixed up and the way it's been handled, it's like mental cruelty," the 6-foot-6 Chicagoan complained.

Clay was in no better frame of mind at his Miami, Fla., training headquarters. "If fans want to see me beat," said the champion, "they ought to start making reservations for Toronto."

"Terrell has a better chance of beating me than either Sonny Liston or Floyd Patterson had," Cassius, who prefers his Islamic name Muhammad Ali, continued. "I'm out of shape. I'm not mentally as good as I should be. I am weighted down with pressures — more pressures than I had before my two fights with Sonny and the Las Vegas fight with Floyd."

Rowntree's announcement before the Ontario Legislature that he had approved the bout for Maple Leaf Gardens lifted some of the pressure off Main-Bout, Inc., the group holding closed-circuit television rights to the match. Frank Tunney of Toronto will promote the fight in conjunction with Maple Leaf Gardens.

"We are pleased someone has finally looked at this as a sports event — which it is — instead of something else," Mike Malitz of Main-Bout said in New York.

Main-Bout still has misgivings, however. Theaters have been dropping off the television hook-up in droves. "We had about 280 exhibitors ready to show the fight in their theaters," said Robert Arum, another Main-Bout executive. "But since all the political troubles began, we've lost 100 of them."

Clay and Terrell both said they planned to leave for Toronto today or Thursday and set up training camps.

The sea supplies only three minerals in large quantities — common salt, magnesium and bromine.

After Blasting Of Monument

British Embassy Guarded In Event Of New Attacks

DUBLIN (AP)—Strong police guards were posted at the British Embassy and other potential targets today to forestall new attacks by the anti-British demonstrators who blew up the Nelson Monument in the heart of Dublin.

Police guarded the homes of embassy staff members and the Phoenix Park monument commemorating the Duke of Wellington, Britain's victor over the French at the Battle of Waterloo.

Detectives said at least eight men have been brought in for questioning about the explosion early Tuesday which brought down the 20-foot statue of the hero of Trafalgar and more than half of the 114-foot column which supported it.

Police believe the explosion was the work of an extremist fringe group of the outlawed Irish Republican Army, which is sworn to end Ireland's partition.

Authorities on both sides of the border — the Republican south and the six counties of Northern Ireland, which still are part of the United Kingdom — have been expecting a wave of IRA activity in connection with the 50th anniversary next month of the 1916 Easter uprising against British rule.

Municipal workmen carried away Nelson's severed head to a remote yard of the Board of Public Works. His sword was missing, presumably filched by early arrivals at the scene.

The City Council said it would pull down the ragged stump and massive base that remained.

Dublin City Councils have been voting for years to get rid of the monument but never followed through. It has been denounced as a traffic hazard, an eyesore and, because of its British origin, an insult to Irish patriots.

Minister of Justice Brian Lenihan denounced the statue's destruction as reckless and said it was providential that no one was killed.

Red Chinese Hint Major Events Ahead

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China hinted for the third time in a week today at major events ahead possibly giving an advantage to the United States.

The mysterious suggestion of temporary Chinese reversals and American successes in the future appeared in the official Peking People's Daily. It was coupled with an admission that setbacks had been encountered before and would happen again. There was also a warning of Chinese countermoves.

"They (the Americans) may get the upper hand of the people in some places for some time as a result of their counterattacks," the paper said. "The movement of the people there seems to be on the ebb, but in reality, a new upsurge is brewing underneath."

The article, like two which preceded it, failed to explain the new pessimism in Peking which has replaced the unwavering public optimism of the recent past.

Chinese rebuffs in Cuba, Indonesia and Ghana may be the immediate explanation. It is possible that these setbacks have touched off sharp criticism within the ruling Communist party of Chairman Mao Tze-tung's hard revolutionary line.

The articles could also be a suggestion to the international Communist movement that Peking is prepared to accept the decisions of the coming Soviet party congress though they may run counter to present Chinese policy. Despite their antagonism to Moscow, the Chinese have said they will attend the multiparty meeting later this month.

The earlier articles told the Chinese people not to panic if setbacks were encountered in the "twists and turns" of the revolutionary road. The first, a week ago, spoke of the likelihood of "great upheavals" and said they were a good thing.

The emphasis of today's article was on the fact that U.S. imperialism will be "gradually destroyed."

Prisoners Stage Sitdown In Gripe Over Their Food

"Nine prisoners at the Beaver County Jail staged a sitdown early this morning," Warden Pete Suder said.

When they refused a turnkey's order to return to their cells, Suder called a state police detail and county detectives, who escorted the prisoners to their cells.

"The prisoners said they didn't like Tuesday night's supper and refused to eat their breakfast this morning," Suder said.

The warden added, "All prisoners will be served their regular meals today. If they refuse to eat, it's up to them. They are well fed."

Rotarians Receive Tips

Club's 'Taken For A Ride' In Travel Adviser's Talk

Mary Gordon, Trans World Airlines travel adviser, discussed "World Travel" during the luncheon meeting Tuesday of the Rotary Club at the Travelers Hotel.

Aiming her talk primarily at businessmen who may be making plans to travel to Europe, she explained that the present policy of the federal government "encourages the establishment of increased trade with other nations in order to alleviate the problem of imbalance of payments."

—:—

ASSISTING businessmen in this endeavor, she continued, are consulates which provide information regarding legal and business practices in various countries.

Miss Gordon, who makes periodic tours on TWA routes in North America, Europe, North Africa and Asia to keep up to date on travel facilities available, offered hints to anyone, in addition to the businessman, planning to make an extensive trip.

Tipping, she said, is almost a universal practice, with Japan being a notable holdout from accepting the custom. In cases where a service charge is added on a check, however, a person generally is not expected to leave an additional tip.

She explained that a person should become familiar with the customs of a country and avoid overtipping, which is considered bad manners and worse than undertipping.

It is helpful for a person to become familiar with the language of a country "and even a poor attempt at a few phrases is appreciated by the local residents," Miss Gordon continued. One exception is France, where the language should be spoken correctly or not at all.

She recommended a limit of only one light - weight suitcase, with a few items of washable clothing.

THE TRAVEL adviser stressed the importance of making as many contacts as possible and following up on names and addresses provided by friends in this country before leaving. An orderly notebook should be kept for easy access to desired information, she stressed.

Food and water in European countries are seldom a worry, and practically without exception may be considered safe in good hotels and restaurants, Miss Gordon said.

She displayed colorful items collected during her travels.

She was accompanied by James O'Toole, TWA representative.

Elmer Eiferd was program chairman.

Dr. James Swinker of Midland was a visiting Rotarian.

Roy Wilson, a new member, was welcomed.

E. R. Chandler presided.

Plans Launched To Set Up Unit Of Jr. Achievement

The first step toward setting up a local chapter of Junior Achievement was taken here Monday with an organizational meeting at the Travelers Hotel.

A national program, Junior Achievement was formed to help acquaint teen-agers with various aspects of the business world.

Edward A. Robbins and Joseph D. Coons were named temporary co-chairmen at Monday's meeting.

Also attending the luncheon were George E. Ryckman, Jack L. Allison, Edwin S. Morse, Stephen H. Eibling, Joseph I. Hutchinson, Charles A. Steinhauser, Wayne A. Snyder and Rodney W. Baum.

Nationally, Junior Achievement groups operate more than 5,000 teen - age companies in nearly 400 communities.

The local group will meet again April 14 at the library of Westgate School.

3 Killed In Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Pennsylvanians — two Marines and one soldier — have been killed in action in Viet Nam, the Defense Department announced Tuesday. They were, Army Pfc. Lloyd C. Wilson Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Wilson Sr., Philadelphia, Marine Sgt. Charles F. Setzenfand, husband of Mrs. Beverly Setzenfand, Butler, and Marine Pfc. Thomas P. Johnston, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Johnston, Philadelphia.

France Takes First Step To Quit Alliance

PARIS (AP) — The French government today said that no discussions on effective reform of the North Atlantic Alliance can be usefully undertaken, and that it is going ahead on its own to take all necessary measures to withdraw from the integrated-force system of the alliance.

A government spokesman said after a regular Cabinet meeting that "the French government is ready to engage in any useful discussions with Allied governments on the subject of practical consequences of the measures it proposes to take, and the dispositions to foresee in view of common operations in case of conflict."

Stripped bare, this apparently gave notice that France would sit down with her allies to talk about how they could act in concert in case of war.

Clarification Made In Hancock Accident

John McGaffick, 23, of Finley Rd., Chester, is listed in "fairly good" condition at City Hospital with multiple facial lacerations received in an auto accident Monday night on West Virginia Route 2 near the Clover Club.

The Hancock County sheriff's office, in correcting a previous report, said today McGaffick was a passenger in the car driven by Larry P. Forsythe, 18, also of Chester, and not the car of James R. Glover, 22, of Chester, the other motorist involved in the accident.

Forsythe was cited for failure to have his vehicle under control.

309 Cases Filed In County Courts

LISBON — A total of 309 cases —22 criminal and 87 civil—were filed in February in the County Courts at Lisbon, Salem and East Palestine, according to a monthly report by Carl L. Stacey, clerk of Common Pleas Court.

Fifty - five per cent of penalties in State Highway Patrol cases and other fines paid the county treasurer amounted to $2,203.75, while 45 per cent paid to the state on patrol fines came to $1,460.25.

Court costs for civil and criminal cases paid to the county treasurer totaled $1,501.65. Sheriff, constable and city police fees came to $316.10.

Ohio 5-Day Forecast

Warmer Thursday, then cooler over weekend, followed by warm trend next week. Scattered showers near end of week expected to average .25 inch.

LBJ Charts Program To Fight Crime

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson called today for a redoubled national effort against crime.

While proposing no major legislation, Johnson urged swift passage of a number of bills that have been before Congress for some time.

He urged appointment of a blue-ribbon commission to recommend drastic revision of all federal criminal laws by 1968.

And he called for more federal money to help state and local law enforcement agencies bring their methods up to date.

"I call on the Congress and the nation," Johnson said, "to join in a three-stage national strategy against crime, welding together the efforts of local, state, and federal government."

As outlined by Johnson, the three stages are:

—A schedule of immediate action through passage of pending legislation.

—A program of experiment and assessment of the crime problem of the future.

'Justice Delayed Is Justice Denied'

Ex-GI In Nuclear Arms Spy Case Gets Freedom

LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP) — George John Gessner drew his first free breath after five years in government custody and said: "Justice delayed is justice denied."

The 29-year-old former soldier showed no elation at his sudden and unexpected release from the U.S. penitentiary where he has been since his conviction June 4, 1964, of giving nuclear weapons secrets to the Soviet Union. He was the first convicted under the Atomic Energy Act.

An appeals court last year nullified Gessner's conviction and life sentence because it found his confession — basis of the government's case — was made involuntarily.

U.S. Atty. Newell George stood before the same three judges Tuesday and declared, "Without the confession we do not have sufficient evidence to go to trial." He filed a motion to dismiss charges against Gessner and a few hours later Gessner was free.

Asked why he had signed the confession, Gessner replied:

"Because of continued interrogation month after month and promise of total immunity."

"Of course, it was not true," he said.

"How can a man have plans when he has been locked up five years or better?" said Gessner when asked about his future. "I hope to return to college — if any college will have me." If he does go to school, he said, "It is not my intention to restrict my political opinions."

Gessner, a private first class, was a nuclear weapons specialist at Ft. Bliss, Tex., when he deserted Dec. 6, 1960, and went to Mexico City. The confession, introduced at his trial, said he met with officers of the Soviet Embassy on several occasions and gave them all he knew about mechanisms of atomic cannon. He was arrested in Panama City, Panama, March 23, 1961, and has been in custody since then — one year of it for desertion.

The confession, Gessner said, was obtained through coercion and fraud.

"A man tends to get justice in proportion to the thickness of his wallet and inversely to the power and prestige of the accuser," Gessner said.

He was reminded that his court-appointed attorneys received no fees.

"One swallow doesn't make a spring and one prisoner breaking free through adequate counsel doesn't change things for the hundreds of thousands of other men still in prison because they were not adequately represented," Gessner replied.

Dear Friends,

Skilled preparation of the body of the deceased, done in good taste, can relieve the starkness of death and the ravages of disease and suffering, permitting the bereaved to see a little way past the anguish of death — to see more clearly the utter reality and serene dignity of death.

Respectfully,

Like Crab Grass On Lawn

Commuter's Hardy Type

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York City commuter is, like the crab grass on his lawn, a hardy type.

Typically, he rises in the dark far out in the suburbs, spends up to two hours riding slow trains to the city—often standing up — and rarely sees his children from weekend to weekend.

The commuter thought he had it tough enough already, but a new trial threatens to be heaped on his suffering head.

If all goes according to plan, the commuter soon will be paying a city income tax for the privilege of working in New York. The tax will be on top of the federal income tax, the state income tax and the taxes he pays to support the community where his mortgaged castle is.

Some of the more rebellious commuters are threatening to move into the city, thus saving enough on commutation tickets and crab grass killers to break even.

Mayor John V. Lindsay is a kindly man and he hates making the commuters unhappy. However, he says the city is in "shocking financial condition" and must raise more money for its budget.

"New York," the mayor said recently, "owes a great debt to its 250,000 commuters. But the commuter in turn owes a debt to New York City. He rides on city-supported buses and subways. He is protected by city police. He depends on the city fire department."

So if the legislature can be persuaded to pass the necessary enabling bill, New York City will start June 1 assessing incomes of both city dwellers and commuters on a scale of 1 to 5 per cent.

A commuter with a salary of $11,000 a year and two children would have to pay the city about $110 a year, deducted from his check on a pay-as-you-go basis.

The money he would pay to the city would be deductible from the income he pays federal tax on, so he would pay the Internal Revenue people $27 less a year.

Midland Board Presents Plan To Teachers' Group

The Welfare and Salary Committee of the Midland Education Association presented a six-point plan to the Finance Committee of the Midland Board of Education Monday night at a meeting in the high school.

Stan Yukica, chairman of the committee, presented the proposals, which he said are designed "to keep Midland educational standards competitve with the surrounding school districts."

Reynold Peduzzi, president of the MEA, said a program has been planned with the hope of making Midland attractive salary-wise so it may be able to compete for qualified young teachers." He would give no further details at this time.

Columnist Dies

Pushes To Clear Pending Cases

New U.S. Food, Drugs Chief 'Man Of Action'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new commissioner of food and drugs is a man of action — "I like to see things get done" — and he is showing it in trying to clean up during his first 90 days in office all pending drug cases that are ready for decision.

Dr. James L. Goddard took his oath as commissioner Jan. 18.

With a smile, he says he inherited a lot of long-standing drug cases which have been referred to as "the dead cats in the closet."

In a drive that already has led to many people in the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare referring to him as "Go-Go Goddard," he has announced a number of major clean-up decisions in less than two months.

So far, these are topped by the sweeping action of Tuesday for ultimate removal from the market of all nonprescription antibiotic lozenges and some other antibiotic preparations which may be purchased without prescription and bear claims they are effective against sore throat.

A spokesman said the four orders added up to one of the most sweeping drug removals the agency ever has ordered.

Asked about his philosophy in reaching decisions with such widespread impact, Goddard said in an interview:

"Basically I try to take the facts available and make decision based on that factual data.

"This agency some two years ago offered the manufacturers of these antibiotic products an opportunity to come forward within 90 days with presentations as to the efficacy — the effectiveness of these drugs.

"There were no such submittals.

"I do feel that an undue length of time had passed, and that there can be no claim of precipitate action.

"I am not saying that the compounds can't be marketed without the antibiotic. I feel sure some will be. Many were made before antibiotics were available and they were useful and I feel sure some will again be marketed with the antibiotic removed."

He said that when he became commissioner he knew that the antibiotic proceeding had been pending a long time and asked for data on it. He is a physician, the first to head FDA in recent years, and is a career commissioned officer in the Public Health Service.

"There was a presentation several weeks ago by the staff," Goddard related. "I asked for more data. When I received it and was satisfied with it, I took action.

"I like to see things get done. I don't do things just to do things but when I consider the available data sufficient on which to base action, I say let's go ahead with the decision.

"And, of course, there are ample safeguards for the manufacturers built into the administrative procedures which provide for public hearing."

He pointed out that the decision to require ultimate removal from the market of the hundreds of antibiotic products was based on failure to show effectiveness but added "some scientists viewed their continued use with concern, contending there are dangers in repeated taking of small doses of antibiotics."

The products already in the channels of manufacture, distribution and sale will be not be seized or recalled, Goddard said, because it was not thought that the contended dangers "were pervasive enough to require a recall."

The dangers the scientists cite, he said, are that sensitization of individuals may occur or that continued use of antibioitcs in small dosages might contribute to development of resistant strains of bacteria.

"This was a part of the whole problem, as well as the lack of effectiveness, he said.

He also said here was the angle of economic protection of the consumer, "who has been led to believe a product will perform something, and when it doesn't, he is not getting his money's worth."

QUESTIONS Shaw's mounting specialists are often asked:

● What does a new mounting cost?

A simple Shaw's mounting can cost under $25; elaborate ones $200 or more. But consider how small the cost when compared with the value of the diamonds; how small the cost when spread over all the years the diamonds will be worn and enjoyed.

● Is there a labor charge for setting the diamonds in the new mounting?

Not at Shaw's.

● What is the smallest size diamond that can be used?

Any size is remountable.

● What if my diamonds are of different sizes?

Shaw's has many mountings for graduated sizes. Or Shaw's can create a design ideal for your varied diamonds.

● Can any jewelry store or department remount satisfactorily?

Oh no! Your diamonds deserve specialists. Shaw's use experienced craftsmen with "perfectionist" pride. For instance, the head or cup that holds your diamond will be the right size . . . not one that's stretched or reshaped to fit. Such detail makes a Shaw's job look "right."

Hearings Due On Consumer Credit Bill

HARRISBURG (AP)—Public hearings may be in the offing of the Scranton Administration's lengthy and technical Consumer Credit Bill.

Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, R-Crawford, whose banking committee released the measure to the floor unchanged Tuesday, indicated his desire for hearings. No decision has been made.

Minority Democrats are insisting on hearings. They tried to pin down Majority Leader Stanley G. Stroup on a decision but he said only that the matter was being considered.

The administration bill and one introduced in the Democratic-controlled house would fix a maximum interest rate for the first time and would regulate credit sales on installment buying.

Gvo. Scranton signed the compromise congressional reapportionment bill, bringing to a close a major legislative chapter of the year. The measure realigns the state's 27 congressional districts on the "one man, one vote" principle of equal population.

This leaves the General Assembly with two concurrent sessions—a special session on eight items and the other, a regular fiscal session.

Four of the eight bills have passed the Senate only to get tied up in the House where some rival bills have been introduced.

The House moved its own version of the Bituminous Mine Subsidence Bill into position for a final vote and released from the committee a rival bill on retired judges.

Other Highlights:

Moratorium—Rep. Thomas F. Lamb, chairman of the House Elementary Education Committee, said he was opposed to an indefinite moratorium on school district reorganization for school districts with appeals in court. He indicated public hearings may be necessary.

Mines Compact — The Senate moved a bill proposing an interstate mines compact for conserving resources and combating pollution into position for a final vote.

State Police—Maj. Willard J. Stanton, chief of the State Police Detective Bureau, refused 77 times to answer questions about alleged wire tapping activities. The special House committee conducting the probe is considering whether to hold the police officer in contempt.

Therapist, Nurse To Visit School

Dates for visits with preschool children by a speech therapist and a registered nurse were announced by Mrs. Ernest Freeland during a meeting of the Pughtown Parent - Teacher Association Monday night at the school.

The visits will be held Thursday of this week and on March 24, respectively.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Edwin Flowers.

Mrs. Donald Glenn, secretary, Mrs. Richard Cameron, treasurer, and Mrs. Robert McDevitt, hospitality, submitted reports.

William Allison, Mrs. Harry DeLong and Mrs. Craig Mick were named as nominating committee to select officers for the coming year.

Members of the Pioneer 4-H Club presented the program, with demonstrations being given by Vicky Flowers, Albert Schrimp and Pamela Huff under the direction of Mrs. Earl Priest.

Mrs. Rebecca Miller's fifth grade won the attendance award.

Mrs. Robert Golden presided. Refreshments were served by teachers.

Court Defers Ruling On Action For $2,003

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff deferred a decision Tuesday after hearing a civil action in which the Aid for the Aged Division of the State Welfare Department seeks to collect $2,003 from Owen D. Kountz of Erie St. as administrator of the estate of Mrs. Lillie Kountz.

The state seeks judgment for the sum which it alleges it paid in aid to Mrs. Kountz' husband, John Kountz, prior to his death. It alleges that both Mr. and Mrs. Kountz signed a certificate of lien that could be applied against real estate.

The defendant contends that Mrs. Kountz did not receive any aid from the state and therefore the claim cannot be collected from her estate. The court granted Charles A. Pike, Lisbon attorney, two weeks in which to file briefs on behalf of the state agency. John B. McDonald is counsel for Kountz.

Two - thirds of the inhabitants of Mexica are of mixed Spanish and Indian blood. They are known as Mestizos.

29 Flee Fire, Smoke In Pittsburgh Area

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A general alarm fire in a row of houses scheduled for demolition sent 29 persons fleeing from smoke and flames in a Pittsburgh residential area Tuesday night.

The Squirrel Hill section blaze, confined by firemen to four of seven connected dwellings, also filled a nearby house with smoke. Only three of the homes were occupied.

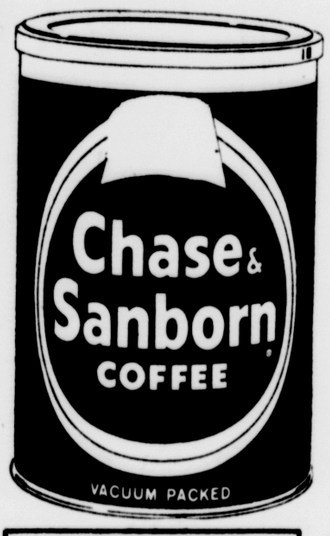

Acting Fire Chief William Martin said the cause of the fire was unknown. He gave damage estimate of $40,000.

Two firemen were slightly injured.

Chamber 'Week' Observance Set

East Liverpool will join in observance of National Chamber of Commerce Week April 3-9.

Plans for the program were advanced Tuesday night when the Board of Trustees and committee chairmen of the East Liverpool Area Chamber held their semi - final dinner meeting at the Travelers Hotel, reviewing past accomplishments and planning for the future.

E. R. CHANDLER, executive manager, called attention to the observance, held primarily to cite the Chambers' services to their communities and their members. The East Liverpool Chamber observed its 50th anniversary in 1965.

Joseph D. Coons, membership chairman, said a drive for new members will be one of the highlights of the week's observance. He said literature will be mailed to about 100 prospective members, who then will be contacted personally.

The meeting was occupied primarily with the reports of chairmen of nine standing committees.

The members also were advised that the annual spring membership meeting has been set for mid - May. The tentative theme for the session will be "Total Community Development."

Chandler read a letter pointing out that the annual meeting of the U. S. Chamber will be held May 1-4 in Washington, D. C. Several members already have indicated plans to attend, he said.

Announcement was made of the death Sunday of Herschel Atkinson of Columbus, who was executive vice president of the Ohio Chamber. Services were to be held today at Columbus. Mr. Atkinson addressed an East Liverpool Chamber meeting a few years ago.

TWO COMMITTEE chairmen made strong appeals for approval of the 3½-mill school levy that will be on the ballot at the May 3 primaries to provide funds for salary increases for East Liverpool teachers.

Approval of the levy was urged by both C. V. Hughes, chairman of the public education committee, and S. C. Porter Jr., head of the legislative affairs committee.

Hughes asserted he believes there will be "a big turnover in teaching personnel" at the end of the current school term unless salary raises are provided.

Porter said the local system lost 20 per cent of its certificated personnel at the end of the last term, as teachers left for districts offering higher salaries. He said the loss might range up to 40 per cent at the end of this term, although he said conservative estimates place the expected loss at 25 to 30 per cent.

"If the levy does not pass, our school system will deteriorate," he warned.

Hughes also reported on activities of the public education committee. He said it held a reception last fall for new teachers in the East Liverpool area systems and plans to hold the annual scholarship recognition dinner in late May, honoring graduates who are in the top 10 per cent of their classes in the East Liverpool, Beaver Local, South Side and Oak Glen systems.

FRANCIS H. LANG, reporting for the highway committee, reiterated that the state expects construction will be finished by Nov. 30 on the next area stage of the Freeway, stretching from Route 170 near Substation to Route 267 near Apples Corners. It's another link in the Lake Erie - Ohio River Highway, which eventually will connect East Liverpool and Ashtabula.

The State Highway Department's Division 11 office in New Philadelphia is pushing ahead as rapidly as possible on preparation of plans for the next two area stages of the highway, he added. It expects it may be ready to let a contract in October for the segment stretching from Apples Corners to West Point.

Property has been appraised and the state is ready to begin purchases of land for right-of-way, he said. A contract may be let in the fall of 1967 for the next segment of the highway, stretching from West Point to a spot east of Lisbon, the attorney added.

George A. Shaw, reporting for the Community Improvement Corp., cited the action of the County Airport Authority last week in picking Swaney Airport as the site for a new county airport. He also mentioned the CIC's purchase of adjoining ground — part of it for the airport site and the balance for possible industrial use.

"The purchase of the land is a perfect example of the wisdom of having money in the till, ready for use when needed," he said, in referring to the acquisition of the abutting tract with CIC funds.

A. C. Purinton Jr., president, cited the airport action as "an indication of what can be done when everyone pulls together." He said the airport "will be a tremendous factor in community development."

ARTHUR DOAK reported on recent activities of the civic and community affairs committee. He said it is seeking enactment of various ordinances, including legislation that would require vacant lots to be kept clear of weeds and debris, provide for adequate maintenance of sidewalks, allow authorities to tow away junked cars on streets and vacant lots, and set up building and zoning codes.

He also discussed the committee's plans for a general community cleanup drive in May in cooperation with authorities in Liverpool and St. Clair Townships and Chester and Newell.

Steve Eibling reported for the business relations committee, substituting for Richard Emmerling, who was attending a meeting in Columbus. He said the committee is planning the annual forum on the free enterprise system for seniors at East Liverpool High School. Three speakers will participate in the forum, which is set for March 30.

Recent activities of the East Liverpool Merchants Association were summarized in Dayton Allen, chairman. He said the merchants are planning a spring promotion for May and also expect to hold a meeting for discussion of downtown improvements.

He cited the steadily growing cost of the businessmen's annual Christmas program, repeating figures he related to City Council Monday night.

Samuel Brown gave a report for the safety committee. He said it has sent data to the U. S. Chamber on the local observance of National Fire Prevention last October. The committee is studying safety regulations that would require Council legislation, Brown added.

Charles Taylor reported for the North Hancock County Development Organization. W. E. Williams gave the treasurer's report.

Indian Army Set To Fight Rebel Tribes

SHILLONG, India (AP) — Indian army columns pushed through sniper-infested jungle today toward two major towns overrun by Mizo tribesmen in southeast Assam State.

An official spokesman said the relief parties set out from Aijal, headquarters town for the Massachusetts-size district that extends down between East Pkaistan and Burma. Their objectives were Champhai, near the Burmese border, and Lungleh, to the south.

The spokesman said rebels who had been attacking Dawmgawn, near Aijal, "have been dispersed and casualties have been inflicted." Aijal was also overrun but was recaptured.

"Casualties on our side have been very light," he said. "Since the Mizo attacks have been at night, it is difficult to say what their casualties have been but we presumed they were very heavy."

Newsmen are prohibited from entering the Mizo district.

The spokesman denied one published report that an air force plane was hit by ground fire while strafing a rebel position.

Newsmen were asked not to use the terms "revolt" and "rebellion" and instead to call the Mizos misguided or lawless elements. The government is preparing leaflets which are to be dropped over Mizo territory urging the tribesmen to abandon their uprising.

Special broadcasts also are being beamed at the Mizos by All-India Radio, the government network.

The spokesman disclosed that one platoon of the Assam Rifles which set out from Demagiri for Lungleh apparently was ambushed and may have been wiped out.

Reports reaching Shillong, Assam's capital, said about 50 men were in the platoon and the survivors surrendered to the Mizos.

Communication with Lungleh was lost shortly after the Mizos revolted the night of Feb. 28. The tribesmen, a Mongol-origin people of high intellect and physical ability, want their own independent state.

The spokesman told newsmen in this beautiful wooded hill station that air force pilots flew over Lungleh and reported most of the city's 2,000 residents appeared to have fled into the surrounding hills.

"The city looks deserted," the spokesman said.

Pittsburgh Minister To Be Guest Speaker

HANOVERTON — Dr. T. Christie Innes, senior minister of the Eastminster United Presbyterian Church in Pittsburgh, will be guest speaker during the family night program Thursday at 7:30 at the Hanoverton United Presbyterian Church.

A coverdish dinner will be served in the dining room at 6:30 p. m.

Barr Leaves Hospital

HONOLULU (AP)—Mayor Joseph Barr of Pittsburgh has been released from Queen's Hospital where he was treated for an ailment of the intestines, described as not serious but painful. Barr, 59, who was admitted to the hospital Saturday, and released Tuesday, continued vacationing. He's scheduled to return to Pittsburgh March 17.

PTA Has Meeting At Highlandtown

HIGHLANDTOWN — The second and third grades of Mrs. Gladys Boyd presented the opening phase of the Highlandtown Parent - Teacher Association meeting Monday night.

Virginia Myers and Cathy Seigler read the scripture, which was followed by the Lord's Prayer and pledge of allegiance. The rhythm band played two selections. Mrs. Lucy Martin, first-grade teacher, exhibited some of her oil paintings.

Phil Maher, a member of the Southern Local Board of Education, spoke briefly. Entertainment was provided by "The Twin Trio."

Robert Seigler, president, presided and a nominating committee of Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Taggart, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hays, Mr. and Mrs. John Witherow and Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Donaldson was appointed. The election will be held April 4.

A donation was made to the March of Dimes and the ways and means committee discussed plans for the school carnival April 2. The PTA is purchasing a new curtain for the stage.

A "guess cake," baked by Mrs. Rubby Corbin, was won by Maher. Mrs. Edith Harper's fifth- and sixth-grade homeroom mothers served lunch.

Midland Board Gets Applications

Applications for the post of superintendent and high school principal at Midland are being studied by the Board of Education.

The two - year contract of Supt. Edgar Richards will expire in July and the appointment has been opened to other applications. Supt. Richards is eligible for reappointment, board members pointed out.

High School Principal William Walters announced recently he plans to retire from the post, although he is considering taking a teaching position elsewhere.

The personnel committee of the board met Sunday to study the applications for superintendent and other personnel.

Uccellini said the meeting was arranged "to review applicants for several positions at the school."

The United States Passport Office issued or renewed a record number of more than 1,325,000 passports in 1965, according to a recent report. The number exceeded predictions by 130,000 and represented a 17 per cent increase over 1964.

Rehearsal Set For Gemini 8 Space Teams

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Launch teams conduct 11 separate simultaneous countdowns today in a vital rehearsal for next Tuesday's Gemini 8 man-in-space flight.

Astronauts Neil A. Armstrong and David R. Scott were to wear their bulky suits and squeeze into the Gemini 8 spacecraft for part of the exercise, which was to last most of the day.

Major goal of the test was to make certain communications were functioning properly among the teams conducting the various counts.

The actual over-all countdown next Tuesday will be challenging because it involves the launching of two rockets. An Atlas is to blaze away from Cape Kennedy at 10 a.m. to place an Agena space vehicle in orbit.

Armstrong and Scott are to follow at 11:41 a.m. atop a Titan 2 rocket. They are to chase the Agena, catch it and attempt man's first linkup with another orbiting satellite.

On the second day of the planned three-day mission, Scott is to take a record space walk of nearly 2½ hours.

Armstrong, a civilian, and Scott, an Air Force major, will participate Thursday in a simulated flight during which several phases of the countdown and flight are rehearsed.

Some Surprise Music

LIBERTY, Ky. (AP) — The members of Liberty Baptist Church listened in stunned silence one Sunday morning as the choir leader from the Methodist Church started leading their song service. The entire Methodist congregation joined in from several blocks away. It developed the Methodists were hooked up for a broadcast over a local station — and the speaker system in the Baptist church was inadvertently plugged in.

Rough Sledding In House Seen For School Bill

HARRISBURG (AP) — An adminitration bill proposing an indefinite school district reorganization moratorium for districts with court appeals pending apparently is in for rough sledding in the House.

"Someone is going to have to prove to us that a moratorium is necessary," Rep. Thomas F. Lamb, D-Allegheny, chairman of the Elementary and Secondary Education Committee, declared after a brief session Tuesday.

"We're going to take a long, hard look at this," he continued, adding that he may hold public hearings to determine if the legislation was necessary in order not to upset machinery involved in reorganization.

Lamb's comments came after the House met to advance a new bituminous mine subsidence bill into position for a final vote.

He will play a key role in the fate of the school measure since it was referred to his committee after clearing the Senate.

A senate bill proposing a one-year moratorium for districts awaiting court decisions was killed last year in his committee.

The legislation was prompted by the fact that some 160 of the state's present 2,200 districts have appealed their reorganization to Commonwealth Court in Harrisburg.

An Expensive Error

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Ignorance may be bliss but it can expensive, according to the Wichita police department. An unidentified traffic officer damaged the transmission of a police car by putting motor oil in the wrong opening. It cost the department about $200 to repair the damage.

The can manufacturing industry is the nation's third largest user of steel. Only the automobile makers and construction industries use more.

FBI's Probing Bomb Scares At West Virginia U.

MORGANTOWN (AP) — West Virginia University President Paul A. Miller today said the FBI is investigating an outbreak of phony bomb scares at the university.

Two classroom buildings were emptied Tuesday. Armstrong Hall was evacuated during the morning and Woodburn Hall was the target later in the day.

Authorities were unable to find bombs in either building and classes were resumed.

Dr. Miller said the FBI was asked to investigate because the situation had gotten out of hand. The first call occurred Friday with the second coming Monday.

Authorities said Tuesday's caller was a male. But they were unable to say if he was the same person who had called earlier.

"The person or persons responsible will be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law," Dr. Miller promised.

KNOW WHEN OUR SHIP CAME IN?

In 1859.

That was the year an imaginative 26-year old, named George H. Hartford, had a brilliant idea.

The idea? Buy tea direct from the Orient by the clipper shipload.

1859...that's when our ship came in. That was the beginning. That's when our founder showed he cared about people.

Today, in keeping with that proud heritage, A&P is still dedicated to bringing the most good food, to the most people for the least amount of money.

Today, more than a century later, we can honestly say, "WE CARE...about you."

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P? It's one of many.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I'm married to a man who is a good husband and father. He is an excellent provider and I do not recall the last time he missed a day of work.

The problem is that every Saturday night he goes out and gets dead drunk. He says if I was a good wife I would go with him to see that he doesn't drive his own car and keeps telling me that one of these Saturdays he will run over someone, or into something, and it will be my fault.

I do not drink and I abhor taverns and the types who hang around such places. I honestly don't know what is the right thing to do. Please tell me.—BORN IN TWO.

Dear Torn: Your husband is trying to maneuver you into condoning his Saturday night benders. Moreover, he'd like to shift the guilt to you if something unfortunate does hppen to him while he's out tootin' around. Don't fall for it.

If he insists on getting smashed once a week you can't stop him but you don't have to lead him from one saloon to another. Tell him to take taxis or walk.

Reluctant Tipper

Dear Ann: The letter from the hat check girl got me mad. And I'm mad at you, too—for publishing her stupid letter. Aren't there enough gutless wonders who allow themselves to be shamed into tipping without you helping the cause?

I'm an ad space salesman and I work mighty hard. Nobody tips me for doing a good job. And why should they?

I eat out almost every night. When I take my girl out I have to leave big tips all around or she gives me dirty looks. I have to tip the guy who parks my car, the cutie who checks my hat, the waiter in the restaurant and the creep who reads the newspapers in the men's room.

Everybody has his hand out, and you'd better come through or you're a cheap jerk.

Is this fair? I would like to see this letter in print, along with an answer from you. If you can think of one—PERMANENT RESIDENT OF SHNOOKSVILLE.

Dear Shnook: I've said it before, but obviously you missed, it, so here it is again: The European system of tipping, before the Americans got there and spoiled things, was far better than ours. Fifteen per cent was added to the bill and tipping was discouraged.

In our country tipping is considered part of the cost of going out. Since you resent the system, I suggest that you park your car on the street (if you can find a parking place), eat at home, and keep your coat and hat with you.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Investment Counselor Due Burglary Hearing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—An investment counselor convicted in 1962 for burglary gets a U.S. District Court hearing here Thursday. James Coleman, 35, of Cleveland contends evidence used to convict him was obtained by illegal search and seizure.

Coleman, sentenced to an indeterminate stay in Ohio Penitentiary on three counts of burglary and three of larceny, contends police searched his car and business office without warrants and took away goods.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Join The Easter Parade Slimmer

Oh to be willowy when it comes time to shed bulky winter clothes! Take tonic measures now and by Easter Sunday you can be 10 pounds slimmer and inches trimmer.

Ida Jean Kain

The proper use of the low-calorie protective diet is the best reducing system to date. Regard a slimming program as a change to improve your nutritional status. Certain foods, because of their nutrient composition, are known to furnish their full share of protective essentials. Make these protective foods the backbone of your meals and keep within your reducing calorie limits. That's all there is to safe dieting.

REGARDING portions of food: Keep the dinner serving of lean meat, fish or poultry to ¼ pound, (4 oz.) cooked weight, all trimmable fat removed. Lunch can be built around cottage cheese, ½ cup, or hard cheese, 1 oz. or a 3-oz. serving of fish, chicken or leftover lean meat. Have a pint of skim milk or buttermilk daily. The skim milk can be used in soup or cooking.

Vegetable portions: A half-cup serving is right for all starchy vegetables. . .a half of a baked potato, a small ear of corn, a half cup of rice. Have a three-quarter cup serving of other vegetables. Use fruit, cheese or gelatine for dessert. Limit bread to 2 or 3 slices, lightly spread. Limit fats to three half pats of margarine, plus a tablespoon of French dressing on salad. These protective foods can be provided within 1100 calories a day. On that number you can lose 2 pounds a week.

Restore tone to the figure controlling muscles with a small amount of regular exercise. Muscles really are wonderful! With a normal amount of elasticity (tone), they hug the waist, shape the hips and brace the frontline. Toned muscles restore your bounce!

Get a lift with a stretch. Standing, circle arms inward, cross and circle overhead, pulling slim through the middle as you circle arms around and down a half-dozen times.

ADD A side-bend. Stretch up with arms, forcing mid-section muscles to take the action. Hold the upstretch as you bend smoothly sidewards. Bend as far as comfortable and at the end of the bend — hold. Breathe freely. Repeat three times, then stretch-bend-hold to the opposite side. Do not allow hips to bow out as you bend.

Swing! Stand in a doorway, left hand on doorjamb for balance. Swing right leg forward, then swing rearward against tightened hip muscle, and hold. Repeat 4 to 6 times, then swing with opposite leg. This action tones fore and aft muscles.

If you follow through with a two-mile straightaway walk daily, you will look and feel like a new person by Easter Sunday.

In some parts of the Arab world, a man is considered a weakling if he refuses to drink dirty water.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD DOAN

Replay Of 'Play Of The Week'

Richard Doan

"Play of the Week," one of TV's best-remembered dramatic series, is about to see the light of home screens again — this time on educational channels.

The Eastern Educational Network, an association of 14 noncommercial stations normally engaged in exchange of programs for mutual benefit, has made a deal with National Television Associates, owner of the "Play of the Week" videotapes, to give them a reshowing.

Some of the EEN stations, such as the one in Boston, will run as many as 53 of the 71 teleplays. New York's Channel 13, however, will be able to show only 11 because rights have lapsed for New York runs for many of the productions.

Channel 13 will not begin showing them until fall, but some ETV stations will start them next month. Stations in San Francisco and Chicago are in the EEN lineup as well as outlets along the Eastern seaboard from Maine to Pennsylvania.

Most of the plays have a running time of about an hour and 45 minutes.

David Susskind was executive producer of the series in its first year; in the second year Worthington Miner ran the show.

NBC OFFICIALLY locked up its fall prime-time program schedule over the weekend. The only last-minute surprise: Chuck Connors' "Branded" was dumped in favor of a new comedy series, "Hey, Landlord!" starring Will Hutchins and Sandy Baron.

The decision to drop the Sunday night Western was the sponsor's. "Branded" was a midseason entry last year, replacing Bill Dana's comedy series.

NBC announced that its entire lineup of 29 evening shows will be in color. The network called this a "dramatic move." Actually, all three networks are expected to be 100 per cent color next fall.

NBC said it will again present the "Telephone Hour" alternating with news "activities" specials Sundays at 6:30 to 7:30 p.m.

FOR SOME REASON NBC categorized its prime time as 25 hours weekly, beginning at 7:30 p.m. weekdays but at 7 p.m. on Sundays. This put "Telephone Hour" and the news specials half in, half out of prime time. There was no explanation.

A 30-minute show starring folksinger Roger Miller was one of the final additions to the schedule. He will be seen Mondays at 8:30 p.m.

Ten new series will be introduced and 16 current ones returned. Besides Miller's show and "Hey, Landlord!" the new offerings are: "The Monlees," "Occasional Wife" and "The Hero," comedies; "T.H.E. Cat," a mystery drama; "The Road West," a Western serial; "The Girl from U.N.C.L.E." "Star Trek" and "Tarzan," hour-long adventure dramas.

"FAIR EXCHANGE," a 1962-63 CBS series which had the distinction of being the first hour-long situation comedy, will have a summer rerun.

But the resurrected shows will be a half-hour version which replaced the hour shows when CBS programmers decided the series would be improved by condensation. Instead it died.

The series starred Eddie Foy Jr.

It dealt with an American family and an English family which swapped daughters for one year.

"Fair Exchange" will fill in for "Lucy" Monday nights. Desilu, of which Lucille Ball is president, produced "Fair Exchange," and CBS' summer booking of it obviously part of the price the network paid to get Miss Ball to come back next season.

CBS is working on an "international" variety show to replace Jackie Gleason's variety hour for the summer, but details have not yet been disclosed.

Crime Rises In Suburbs, Survey By AP Indicates

By JERRY BUCK
Associated Press Writer

Police officials say suburbia's soaring population, public apathy and small police forces contribute to the pace-setting crime rise in the suburbs, an Associated Press survey shows.

Millions of Americans have escaped to the suburbs. But criminals apparently have joined in the exodus from the cities.

The FBI said Monday the suburbs paced a 5 per cent increase in the nation's reported crimes in 1965. Crime in suburbia was up by 8 per cent over 1964, with 12 per cent more rape and 13 per cent more robbery.

"Certainly our crime rate is growing, but then so is our population. They follow together," says Donal Meehan, police chief of Alhambra, Calif., a suburb of Los Angeles.

"We're getting some of the crime that used to be elsewhere," said Police Chief John O. Kenyon of Overland Park, Kan., which is 12 miles from downtown Kansas City and one of the 10 fastest-growing communities in the nation.

In Yonkers, just outside New York City, Safety Commissioner Daniel F. McMahon says: "We're part of the national picture — lowering of moral standards and a growing disrespect for law and authority, and we haven't been helped by court decisions."

One of the major problems facing suburban communities is that their police forces have not kept up with the population.

"We're just not able to get the personnel, and we haven't had the personnel for 10, 12, 14 years now," said Chief James F. Corr of Lexington, Mass., a suburb of Boston. He said he needs 65 policemen, but has only 34.

"Perhaps because we're the affluent society, I don't think too many parents say to their children, 'You ought to be a policeman.'" Corr said. "There are too many professors and architects here."

Chief Meehan of Alhambra says we're getting calls now for things we never did 25 years ago. We're expected to check routine domestic squabbles. The citizenry is expecting and getting more services without an appreciable boost in our manpower.

"We have to get the citizens to help us if we're to make a real effort against crime."

Chief Meehan has 77 officers to patrol a community of 63,000 persons.

In nearby Burbank, Calif. Police Chief Rex R. Andrews has 137 officers to police a community of 95,000. He has his own views about the rise in crime.

"Anyone who can tell you what causes crime to increase is either a damn fool or a damn liar or both," Andrews said.

"We're trying to fight public apathy, the feeling that if it isn't happening to me, I'm not interested. Last week we had some officers trying to make an arrest and they asked a bystander to call for help. He answered: 'Oh, hell, I'm late for work already.'"

Despite the statistics, all is not bleak in the suburbs.

In the Atlanta, Ga., suburb of College Park crime is down 13 per cent. "This year I've had one auto stolen in two months," says Police Chief T. Owen Smith.

Smith said he believes the decrease stems from cooperation by Greater Atlanta authorities. He said: "We feel that our Metropol organization has done something — the cooperation, better education, and communication."

One of the wealthiest suburbs in the country is Winnetka, Ill., just north of Chicago. It has no industry, no hangouts, it is dry, its population is stationary — and so is its crime rate.

Winnetka has had no homicides or rapes in more than two years. Last year it had 39 burglaries and 35 major larcenies. Chief Don Derning says residents are quick to report suspicious persons and to notify police when they are leaving town.

Many of the communities surveyed are affluent, and that means burglaries.

"It seems like wealthy people are moving out of the cities into areas like ours," said Chief R.J. Hundley of Prairie Village, Kan., a community near Kansas City. "This is increasing our losses. We try to combat it by loading police into areas with the greatest incidents."

"We may go a year or two without a murder, but housebreaking is our biggest problem," said Philip Purcell, chief of police in Newton, Mass., and president of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

Commissioner McMahon of Yonkers attributes a high percentage of the burglaries to narcotics. Eliminate the narcotics problem, he said, and "a very substantial decrease in the crime rate would follow."

Local governments faced with a steadily increasing population have been slow to increase their police forces, an FBI spokesman said.

The governments, usually controlled by persons who have lived in the communities for years, require time to assess and react to their crime problems. This in turn contributes to the increase in the crime rate.

"We must continue to recruit new officers, and make people aware of the need to help us, to secure their property and report and assist us when something is wrong," said William A. Bechtel, police chief of Redondo Beach, Calif.

Dance Scheduled April 1 By Kent Center's Senate

A "Sock Hop" for the students of the Kent State Academic Center was set for April 1 at a meeting of the Student Senate Monday at Westgate School.

The dance will be held at the IBOP building from 9 to 12 p.m. Plans were discussed for a local disc jockey to provide the music for this dance.

Don Brown, president, discussed the starting of a Study Aid Program. Plans call for selecting able students to help interested classmates obtain effective mastery of their studies. Brown also pointed out that the center will offer a course in how to study this summer.

Petitions for election to the Student Senate will be circulated this week and next to fill a vacancy created by the transferring of Bob Francis to the Kent Campus for the Spring Quarter.

Committees were formed to plan a bake sale and to check into the possibilities of the sale of Student Senate merchandise for a limited time, at a downtown store. The Senate is undertaking these projects to raise funds to help defray the cost of the planned dance and other projects.

Officers elected were Mrs. John Grimm, president; Mrs. Robert Miller, vice president; Mrs. Frank Scarbino, secretary; Mrs. John Dean Miller, treasurer, and Mrs. Joe Oleski, news reporter.

Plans were made to meet once a month, with the next April 11 at 7 p. m. Women of the community interested in joining are invited to attend.

A bake sale will be held April 8 at Paisley's Store at 3 p. m.

Tax Saving On College Student Expenses Fought

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration forces in the Senate try today to defeat a proposal to give a tax break to parents of college students.

The administration suffered one surprising setback on the $6-billion tax bill Tuesday when Republicans succeeded in adding to the bill an amendment to grant Social Security benefits to some 1.8 million persons over 70 not now covered.

The amendment was approved by a vote of 45 to 40 and carries an estimated price tag of $760 million a year. Whether or not it stays in the measure — provided the bill passes — would be decided when Senate and House conferees compromise differences in their versions of the legislation.

Administration leaders said they expected a close vote today on Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff's amendment to give an annual tax saving of up to $325 for college expenses. Annual cost of the proposal was put at $1 billion, but the Connecticut Democrat said it would not take effect until 1968.

The Ribicoff amendment was defeated by only three votes in 1964.

Senate leaders were hopeful action could be completed on the tax measure later today.

It would reinstate excise tax cuts made recently on phone calls and car sales and would speed up collection of personal and corporate income taxes.

As submitted by the administration and approved Feb. 26 by the House, the measure would provide additional revenue of $1.2 billion in the current fiscal year and $4.8 billion in the fiscal year which starts July 1.

The Social Security amendment adopted Tuesday long has been pushed by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt.

It was beaten last year 55 to 36 when offered as a rider to the Social Security health care measure. Democratic Senate leaders conceded this led them to underrate its chances this time.

The amendment won votes of 26 Republicans and 19 Democrats Tuesday with 31 Democrats and 9 Republicans opposed.

Under the Prouty amendment, the 1.8 million persons would receive minimum Social Security payments of $44 a month for an individual, $66 for a couple.

The extra cost would be charged to the Treasury's general funds, not the Social Security trust fund.

Explorer Scouts Pick Brown For President

Donald Brown was named president of Ohioville Explorer Scout Post 546 at a meeting Tuesday night at the Midland Sportsmen's Club in Ohioville Borough.

Ronald Johnson was named vice president and Robert Kidder was elected secretary-treasurer. The post discussed plans for a canoe trip in the spring.

Anthony McLean is adviser, Floyd Kidder and Ronald Mazine are committeemen and the Rev. George W. McLaughlin in the institutional representative. Roy St. George and James Wahl were guests.

Any boys, 14-18, in the Midland, Ohioville or Smiths Ferry area are eligible to join the post by contacting McLean or by attending the next meeting March 15 at the sportsmen's club.

Hays' Trips Hit In Talk By Weir

William H. Weir of Salem, Republican candidate for 18th District congressman, took a slap at trips abroad by Rep. Wayne L. Hays, his Democratic opponent, and at what he termed too luxurious embassies when he addressed the meeting of the East Liverpool Republican Women's Club Monday night at the Travelers Hotel.

"The newspapers inform us that my opponent, Congressman Hays, is enjoying another of his frequent tours abroad at taxpayers' expense. We are told he has gone to Egypt to look over a prospective site for a new U.S. embassy building and to exchange greetings with President Nasser. Surely you remember Nasser; the fellow who loves the Communists and yet has nerve enough to hold his hand out to us for more millions in aid even after calling America every vile name his foul mind can invent.

"The few thousands of dollars the congressman's trip will cost us dwindles to comparative insignificance when we consider the probable millions we will squander on a luxurious embassy. I would suggest that until such time when America will once again command the respect of foreign nations that we house our embassies in surplus Quonset huts. "When I contemplate the sorry state of our foreign relations throughout the world today, I am at a loss to understand why my opponent seems so found of boasting of his great influence as a member of the House Foreign Affairs Committee."

Several electric heating installations now are in use in England and Sweden to guarantee frost-free turf on playing fields. The turf can be thawed or warmed up, and active growth of grass can be forced as much as four to six weeks prior to the beginning of the growing season.

Paper Gets Okay On Supplement

KENT, Ohio (AP)—The daily Kent Stater, publication of Kent State University, has been given permission to publish a supplement this weekend.

Approval was granted Tuesday night by a special five-man committee appointed by Dr. Robert I. White, university president.

Colorado promoters have spent more than $3 million since last season on new ski lifts and other improvements for the state's 29 ski resorts and at least a million skiers are expected to use the facilities this year.

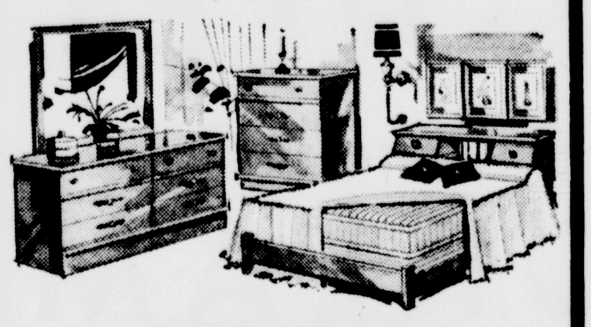

Auto Mishap Fatal

JEFFERSONVILLE, Pa. (AP) —An auto veered out of control and struck a pole in this Montgomery County town Tuesday killing the driver, Mrs. Josephine Puelo, 40, of West Norriton Township. Police said Mrs. Puelo's son, Stephen, 6, who was in the auto, was treated for cuts of the leg and mouth at Montgomery Hospital.

5 Physicians, 17 Employes Quit Longview Hospital Jobs

CINCINNATI (AP)—Five consulting physicians have been dismissed and 17 other employes have quit their jobs at Longview Hospital in the last month, it was disclosed Tuesday in the latest controversy to hit the state's largest institution for mental patients.

In separate action, State Rep. Harry H. McIlwain Tuesday criticized Gov. James A. Rhodes' mental health program.

"If the public were aware of the sorry state of affairs in our mental hospitals they would rise up in indignation," McIlwain said.

Dr. Baltazar Anaya, clinical director at the hospital, confirmed the dismissals of the physicians, but said "I am not allowed to discuss the matter."

No explanations were offered by other hospital officials, and Dr. John Toppen, the superintendent, could not be reached for comment. The hospital has some 2,500 patients.

McIlwain has charged that the hospital is poorly operated and is rampant with brutality, illicit sex and incompetency.

A patient, Everett Boswell, 65, died there Monday after being given a bath in scalding water while the attendant was out of the ward. McIlwain blamed the death indirectly on lack of attendants.

McIlwain, a Democratic candidate for nomination for governor, urged Gov. Rhodes to sell a state - owned "$500,000 airplane and use the money to hire more attendants in the state mental hospital immediately."

Another patient died at Longview late last year, and McIlwain charged that the patient had been mistreated by attendants.

Last Continuance, Judge Say In Delaying Woman's Trial

"This is the last continuance — I warn you," Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff commented today in granting a delay until next Wednesday in the case of an East Liverpool woman ordered last November to tear down or repair property ruled "dilapidated" in an inspection by a deputy state fire marshal.

Mrs. Dorothy Forster of 762 Dresden Ave. was due for a hearing this morning on charges she "willfully failed, neglected or refused to comply" with the order. The affidavit was filed Nov. 22 by Fire Chief Alfred VanDyne, who was assistant chief at the time. One continuance was granted in the case —until Dec. 8—and no further action was taken until today.

Bernard Fineman appeared before the bench with Mrs. Forster today, explaining that she made arrangements Tuesday to be represented by Fineman's law partner, George A. Aronson, after another attorney withdrew from the case. But Fineman asked the continuance, pointing out Aronson is trying a case in Federal Court at Pittsburgh.

Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper asked the case be tried as soon as possible.

"This case has been on the docket since November," he told the judge. "This is important. We contend this property is a hazard to the public and the surrounding property. If it caught fire, it could cause a major conflagration."

Fineman pointed out that Aronson "was just retained yesterday" and added: "We are agreeable for it to be set down at any time the court decides."

In granting the continuance, the judge declared forcefully: "This is the last continuance. I warn you it will be heard next Wednesday, come what may."

The fire marshal's order attached to the affidavit asserts that Mrs. Foster owns property at 530 College St. which "is in a dilapidated condition." The order asserts that "the foundation is caving in, the roof is partially torn off, the windows are broken out, the doors are torn off their hinges, the plaster is off the walls, trees and high weeds and large rocks on the sidewalks are a hazard."

The order gave Mrs. Forster 30 days in which to restore the property "to a safe condition" or tear it down.

On Opposite Sides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pennsylvania's two senators, Democrat Joseph S. Clark and Republican Hugh Scott, were on opposite sides Tuesday when the Senate approved, 45-40, a tax bill amendment by Sen. Winston L. Prouty, R-Vt., to blanket under Social Security all persons over 70 not now covered. Scott voted for the measure and Clark against it.

Siamese twins derived the name from Chang and Eng Bunker, born at Babgesau, Siam, on April 11, 1811. They died within three hours of each other on January 17, 1874, aged 62.

Legislators Invited To Meeting On Health

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Any interested member of the legislature, including Sen. Frazier Reams Jr. who asked, is welcome to attend an "appreciation" meeting of state officials and the Citizens Committee on Comprehensive Mental Health Planning.

Ohio Mental Health Director Martin A. Janis said Tuesday he was writing Reams to that effect. The Toledo Democrat, seeking gubernatorial nomination, complained last week members of his party weren't being invited to the April 4 session.

An average of 3,800 people reach the age of 65 every day.

Pastor Starts Trip On Horseback Today

ZANESVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Itching to go, the minister emulating early American Methodist riders decided to start out today — five days earlier than planned — from Jacksontown, Licking County, toward Baltimore, Md.

The Rev. Dr. Sumner L. Martin, 79, of Franklin, Ind., began his journey from Indiana in January but heavy snow proved too hard on his mare "Maudie" and he put the palomino up at a cousin's near Jacksontown. The minister is en route to the April 21-24 American Methodism bicentennial in Baltimore.

Florida added 1,617,000 out-of-state residents between 1950-60.

Medical Service Demands To Rise

U.S. medicine will have an exacting role to perform in the "war on poverty." Vast needs are seen among the millions of poor and old in big city slums and many rural areas.

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's simply shocking," said a pediatrician in a large Eastern city.

"You wonder if some way can't be found to give these kids a better medical break."

"These kids" were 1,442 youngsters, mostly from poor familes, enrolled in a Head Start program to prepare them better for entering school.

One-third of them, medical examiners found, had some major medical defect, or emotional problem — or both.

That is one measure of the health needs, mostly unmet, among millions of poor people in big cities and many rural areas, needs unmet despite hospital clinics and physicians' donated time.

VARIOUS reasons are suggested for the neglect:

That people don't know facilities exist, that there aren't enough facilities, that some people can't find baby-sitters or take time from their jobs, that clinics and services are too fragmented and patients are shunted from place to place, that many have no medical or hospital insurance systems. The charge is even made that "many poor people just don't care."

But when, and if, the sluice gates open to meet their needs, the nation's medical system will be challenged more than ever.

Medicare will bring part of this new testing, since many elderly persons living on limited incomes will be offered hospitalization under Social Security payments. They may also sign up, at low fees, for medical services.

Looking to July 1, when medicare begins, hospitals in some cities expect a heavy demand for beds and services. Others anticipate only a slight increase, mainly because many beds already are occupied by patients over 65.

MORE DEMAND for medical services will come.

For Title XIX of the medicare law calls upon states vastly to expand their programs of health care for all the needy and medically needy in each state, by July 1975, if they are to continue receiving federal money.

Poor health is one root, one anchor, in a vicious cycle of poverty—"without intervention, the poor gets sicker and the sick get poorer," says Dr. H. Jack Geiger of Tufts University Medical School in Boston.

He and Dr. Count D. Gibson Jr., professor of preventive medicine at Tufts, are originators of a novel approach to improve the health of the poor—a program containing seeds for increasing health manpower jobs among the poor themselves.

Sponsored by the medical school, with an initial grant of $1,168,000 in poverty program funds, the program is setting up two community health centers, one in Boston, another to come ir a rural Southern area.

The Boston center, at the Columbia Point housing development, is operating. In its first four weeks, 600 children and adults in the housing development came for diagnosis and treatment.

TUFTS SUPPLIES the small staff of physicians on duty at the health center. The doctors may refer some patients to city hospitals or to specialists, as needed.

This health program is one pilot attempt—aided by a computerized system of keeping records—to determine the real need for health services, what they cost in time, services and money to meet them, Dr. Geiger explains. It may point the way to similar centers in other areas.

There are 6,000 families in the housing project, and one-third of them enrolled in a voluntary health association which helped plan the health center itself. But anyone in the housing project can utilize the health center. No one is charged for visits. Prevention of illness is emphasized.

The association members decided that families should pay $3 a year in membership dues, partly to help equip the center.

"We asked why $3 was decided upon and someone said: 'Because that's the cost of just one taxi-ride in the middle of the night to a hospital emergency room that we won't have to make when a health center is right here.' "

Whatever the outcome of this particular program, the future promises many other changes in medicine.

Some Victory For Her

JOPLIN, Mo. (AP) — In September 1964, Mrs. Janet Brown filed a suit to recover a palomino mare from a man she charged with giving her a rubber check for $160 in payment for the animal. Late in 1965, Judge Ray Watson ruled in fafor of Mrs. Brown. Recently, he overruled a defense motion to set aside the judgment. Meanwhile, however, the mare died.

Popcorn Packaging

WASHINGTON (AP) — When packing cookies to send to campers or college students, the U.S. Department of Agriculture recommends using popcorn as packing insulation. The popcorn not only protects the other items from crumbling, but can be buttered, salted, and included as an extra treat. A footnote from the Department adds that it also helps use up surplus grain.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Discipline Necessary In Homework

The average child in the United States does not have a room of his own in which to study and do his homework. Most of you who are reading this now did not have such a quiet place for doing homework when you were schoolchildren. On first thought it might seem desirable for every child old enough to do homework to have a separate room in which to do it in. Many parents who can provide such a place for their schoolchild suppose they have an ideal setup for him. They may feel their only problem is to require him to be in this room for a certain regular period each evening. But they may not be sure he will use his time well there.

Dr. Garry Myers

IF A child has a radio or TV set in this room, he may have it turned on. He may devote some of his time to reading a comic book or catalogues describing something he would like to buy. He may lie down to do some of his assignments and fall asleep. Or he may often lie down and sleep for the whole period. If he has a telephone in this room he may often talk to his friends. He may occasionally write a letter or do anything but his homework.

He may have no plan for doing his homework. Finding an assignment a bit difficult he may leave it and turn to something easier. He may never have learned to study well.

It's the child nine, thirteen, or fifteen, if a poor reader, who may waste most time in his own room. Some parents have been telling me personally or writing me about these children. For example, a father who is a college professor recently informed me that his son, twelve, who eagerly absorbs considerable information from hearing it in the classroom, reads practically nothing for pleasure, and fails to get the ideas from his homework assignments in his school books.

I SUGGESTED to his father that he have this boy bring his books and other materials to the kitchen, his study, or another room and do his homework there in his presence each evening. That, he have this boy, before beginning homework, spend half an hour or so reading from an approved source other than his school books. Moreover, the father should check on this reading to ascertain how much the boy got from it.

The purpose, as I explained, is to practice him daily at reading for a continuous period and in doing so in a concentrated earnest fashion.

"But won't this procedure cut down his available time for homework?" the father asked.

"At first, it will," I replied, "but the gain from this practice should carry over in the future to his homework. After a few weeks this gain should be apparent."

IF YOU have several children doing homework, it is possible for all of them to work together and in your prresence, each minding his own business and concentrating on his own work in their midst. In the average home with no separate room for each child, this can become a desirable and efficient practice. While a separate room may be desirable, it's no guarantee for efficient home study.

My bulletins, "Home Helps for Poor Readers I & II," "Parents and the Child's Homework," and "Helping Child With Lessons at Home," may be secured by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

Meeting Slated By Area Schools

A joint meeting of school board members and administrators will be scheduled soon to reach a decision on a joint vocational program, Asst. Supt. George Hargraves Jr. advised the Board of Education Monday night.

A survey of students in the East Liverpool, Beaver Local, Wellsville, Southern Local and Stanton Local districts now is under way to determine their vocational interests.

A report is to be completed by March 17, Hargraves said, and the meeting of school officials probably will be set the following week.

A decision must be reached before April 1 in order to obtain State Department of Education approval and funds if the program is to be started during the next school year, Hargraves informed the board.

6 More Killed In Ohio Mishaps

This is Crucible

Springs, large and small, are one of the products Crucible fabricates. Steel bars made at Midland are shipped to the company's Spring division in Pittsburgh to be hot coiled into springs. These range in size from six inches to nine feet and are used extensively in railroad cars, materials handling and earth-moving equipment. The spring-making unit, in business since 1845, has been part of Crucible since 1900. Always a leader in the spring industry, the division recently, by improved methods and equipment modernization, not only increased its sales but improved its product profitability as well. Spring's achievement stems from a spirit which permeates Crucible and its people - - the result is a company going places, doing things.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: I wonder if anyone else has told you this—about iron-on tape?

There is no need to round the corners as the directions say, if you cut it off the roll with pinking shears, then trim the sides so it is pinked all around.

It stays put much better, as there are no corners or one big edge to catch.

On the children's pants, as they begin to wear, I reinforce the wrong side of the material with tape, then when the tape begins to show through, put another one on the outside.

Bobbie, you couldn't be righter (yes, I know there isn't such a word!)

The pirked iron - on tape doesn't ravel; the corners don't curl up and come loose so easily, and it seems to iron on better — without puckering the material.

Another thing, the patches don't show up as much (those put on the wrong side of the garment) when you iron the right side of the material.

And, another little gimmick which you shouldn't forget to remember:

If you put a piece of aluminum foil on your ironing board before you iron the tape on, the foil will reflect heat and make the tape "gooeyer" so that it will adhere better to the fabric.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: A hint for getting vitamin C into a baby who shies away from drinking liquids:

Put a teaspoonful of orange juice concentrate (undiluted) into his fruit.

DEAR HELOISE: I'm sure lots of folks have dinette chairs with nylon feet.

When I finished waxing my kitchen floor this morning, I turned the chairs upside down on my table to wipe those feet.

My, how the dirt and grime was ground in!

The waxed rag wouldn't remove it. I started for a soap pad, and there lay an emery board on my bookcase.

I grabbed it, made a few circular motions on those little feet, and presto! They were as clean as new.

Then I wiped them with my waxed rag, and now they slide under the table with the push of one finger!

MRS. G. M. FANCHER.

Shug, will you go to the head of the class and take a bow? I give you a standing ovation!

That ground - in - soil on the bottom of those feet is most likely what causes so many of the marks on your floors.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Do you know that the plastic containers for tomatoes are grand to put on your medicine shelf to hold small bottles that fall over easily?

I have quite a number of the boxes in my medicine cabinet, and everything is right side up when I need it.

DEAR HELOISE: We all have that kitchen junk drawer.

In mine there are a lot of the children's things, like pencils, pens, small paint brushes, erasers, paper clips, etc.

These items are kept nicely in their place in my old, sectioned silverware box, and are right there when someone needs them.

MRS. M. YURCHAK.

DEAR HELOISE: I read in your column that someone used a toothpick for mixing paint for numbered painting.

When setting stones in costume jewelry, use pointed tip of the toothpick, dipped in cement, to pick up the tiny stones, set in the frame of the pin, etc. Then use the flat end of the pick to press the stone in place.

Ohio Bonded Debt To Hit $511 Million March 22

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — When the state issues $50 million worth of one-year notes March 22 for capital improvements, Ohio's total bonded debt will hit $511,210,000, State Treasurer John D. Herbert's office said.

The total includes bonds for highways and Korean conflict bonuses, as well as for capital improvements at the end of March.

Blair Reardon, assistant comptroller, said income earmarked for bond retirement and interest payments currently is more than adequate to meet payoff dates.

Voters approved two $500 million highway bond issues, one in 1953 and the other in 1964. Both are financed by taxes on gasoline and big trucks.

Of the $500 million in thoroughfare bonds sold from the 1953 issue, $212,135,000 is still outstanding.

Only $90 million worth have been sold from the second $500 million highway improvements issue, with $2 million already retired. That leaves $88 million in bonds from the second issue outstanding.

Sale of another $75 million worth of highway improvement bonds has been scheduled tentatively for next May and would boost the over - all total accordingly.

Three capital improvements bond issues have been approved, $150 million in 1955, $250 million in 1963 and $290 million in 1965.

Of the $150 million issue, $54,750,000 is still outstanding.

Under the $250 million issue, $75 million in short-term notes were sold in 1964 and all were "turned over" through renewals last year. When the $50 million in additional notes are issued by the sinking fund commission March 22, the total will reach $125 million outstanding.

None has been issued from the new $290 million authorization.

Cigarette taxes finance the capital improvements obligations.

Of the $60 million in Korean conflict bonds issued in 1957 to pay bonuses to military service veterans, $31,325,000 worth are outstanding. They are financed by a real estate tax.

World War II bonuses were paid from a $212,500,000 bond issue of 1948. All have been paid off from general funds, except for $11,000 worth whose holders cannot be located. That sum was not included in the current indebtedness total because the retirement deadline expired long ago, although money is on hand to redeem valid claims, officials said.

In Cincinnati Construction

Dispute Over Racial Bias Reaches 'Wait-See' Stage

CINCINNATI (AP)—The dispute over alleged racial discrimination in the construction industry, which has plagued the Cincinnati area for months, is at the wait-and-see-what-happens stage.

The Cincinnati Building Trades Council announced Monday its member unions would give open job tests to all applicants—including Negroes.

Dr. Bruce H. Green, president of the local chapter of the National Association for Advancement of Colored People, says, "'we're sitting back, waiting hopefully and watchfully until we see how it all works out. . . we just hope the unions will follow through on this."

It was the NAACP which led a series of sit-ins and demonstrations last summer against the alleged discrimination. Some 80 persons, including Dr. Green, were arrested and cnovicted.

Union officials (who deny they ever practiced job discrimination) says that very few Negroes have come looking for the jobs and union membership cards.

The Ohio Civil Rights Commission has issued a report accusing both unions and employers of violating the state's fair employment laws. The building trades council accused the commission of bias and riggings its statistics.

Howard L. Knauf, managing director for the Allied Construction Industries Association, indicated Tuesday night contractors will not sign nondiscriminatory pledges as requested by the Civil Rights Commission.

To do so, Knauf said, would "amount to an admission of guilt where none has been found."

"Contractors have already signed a statement of policy to assure equal employment opportunity and have pledged themselves . . . to expand employment opportunities for minority groups," he added.

One bright spot in the picture is a recent report by the research bureau of the Cincinnati Chamber of Commerce which said there will be $479 million worth of construction in this area between now and 1970. Everybody involved — contractors, union officials and civil rights people—agrees this means more jobs.

Robert Coates, deputy executive director of the Civil Rights Commission, said more than 100 persons—about 65 of them Negroes—have applied to take tests for memberships in various unions.

The commission said its survey showed there were 2,315 Negroes among 19,501 journeyman members of 38 unions. The unions also had 365 apprentices of whom 21 were Negroes.

At Western Beaver Meeting

Financing Plans Revised For Addition At Fairview

Financing of construction of the addition to the Fairview School will be handled through the local Public School Building Association under a change announced by members of the Western Beaver School Board at its meeting Monday night.

The addition, orginally scheduled to be financed through the State Public School Building Association, has been changed because of laws concering leasing of the land. Under the present lease, the financing program cannot be released to the state association.

However, the board said "The high school addition will be financed through the state."

ON A bid of $1,999, LaSalle Products Co. of Pittsburgh was awarded the contract for the purchase of football uniforms. Western Beaver will compete in football for the first time in September.

In other action, Roy Grimes was elected as assistant track coach and the resignation of George Miller, a teacher at Snyder School, was accepted.

Miller has been named supervisor of special classes for the Beaver County School System, the board said.

The baccalaureate and commencement dates were set for May 29 and June 1, respectively.

Mrs. Alice Simmons, a teacher at Snyder School, was granted a sabbatical leave for the 1966-67 school year.

The Post - Prom Committee was granted permission to hold its party at the high school following the prom April 29.

John Hineman, guidance counselor, was authorized to attend the 10th annual conference of the Pennsylvania School Counselors Association at Hershey, Pa., March 24-26.

Michael Minich, AVA director, was authorized to attend the Pennsylvania Learning Association meeting at Boiling Springs, Pa., March 25.

CECIL ALLISON, boys' physical education instructor, and Mrs. Janet Vogel, girls' physical education teacher, were authorized to attend the physical fitness conference at the University of Pittsburgh March 25-26.

Field trips approved by the board included: Future Teachers Club to visit a state college, with arrangements to be completed later; the Business Club to attend the Ice Follies March 19 at the Pittsburgh Civic Arena; the Latin classes to attend the Latin Festival at Buhl Planetarium March 10 or 14, and the Music Boosters Club to take the band to Gettysburg May 14-15.

Four chorus members were granted permission to attend the Midwest District Chorus Festival at Lakeview High School at Stoneburrow, Pa. They are Gary Headley, Joe Postich, Mary Alice Wright and Miriam Jones.

The next meeting will be April 4 at the high school.

Uniform 'Fast Time' Measure Advanced

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Interstate Committee Tuesday approved legislation designed to provide uniformity in observing daylight saving time.

Similar to a measure passed last year by the Senate, the bill would allow the Interstate Commerce Commission to order daylight time for any or all of the existing time zones between the last Sunday in April and the last Sunday in October.

States would be permitted by acts of their legislatures to exempt themselves from the program, but the exemption would have to apply on a statewide basis.

The proposed law would become effective on April 1, 1967.

The nation's soft coal industry's output last year of about 515 million tons was the highest since 1951 and the fourth consecutive annual increase.

Junior Editors Quiz on SEASONS

QUESTION: Do the other planets have seasons such as we have on earth?

ANSWER: A Planet has seasons because its axis is tilted and remains tilted as it circles around the sun. in (A), during summer on our earth, the sun shines almosst later (B), it shines down at a more slanting angle. This means the atmosphere has a chance to absorb more of the heat, so the weather is cold.

Several of the planets have axis tilts similar to that of the earth. Look at the scale to the right and you'll see that the tilts of Mars, Saturn and Venus, although not exactly the same as the earth's, are close to it. On the other hand, the tilt of Jupiter is very slight, and that of Uranus very extreme —it is tilted almost directly over on its side. Because other planets have tilts similar to that of the earth, and so have seasons, this does not mean that their seasons have the same kind of temperature which ours have. The layer of air around the earth makes our seasons bearable, since it protects us from too great a summer heat, and it holds some of the heat back in winter. None of t! other planets has our protective kind of atmosphere. They are either fiercely hot or bitter cold —astronomers doubt that human beings could live on them.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look up each planet in an encyclopedia and find out about its climate. It will make you appreciate our own comfortable earth.

★ ★ ★

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. — How can I prevent glass jars and bottles that are to be stored away from acquiring a musty smell?

A. — Drop a clove or two into them when you put them away. Ditto for vacuum jugs and other such seasonal equipment.

Q. — What is the best way to deal with stains from office carbon paper?

A. — Sponge with carbon tetrachloride. Then, to remove any remaining traces of flush out with a solution of water, detergent, and a small amount of ammonia.

Q. — What is a good formula for making whitewash for interior walls?

A. — Mix one pound of powdered glue and one gallon of water. Then mix 20 pounds of hydrated lime with two gallons of water, stirring carefully until all lumps are dissolved. Combine these two mixtures, and stir until smooth. Then thin with water to a suitable consistency.

Q. — How can I reopen a shellac jar after it has been used and resealed?

A. — It will be much easier to open if you'll turn the jar upside down and apply grain alcohol along the inside edge of the metal cover. The alcohol will dissolve the shellac so that the top will turn.
